Meeting to Establish an Organiza-tion Similar to the Y.M.C.A.
(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.) NEW YORK, March 11.-A local paper says:

"It is quite probable that at the next monthly meeting of the Archdiocesan Union of the Roman Catholic church, a monthly meeting of the Archdiocesan Union of the Roman Catholic church, a movement will be started to establish an organization in the church similar to the Y.M.C.A. Such a movement has been discussed for some time by various Roman Catholic specieties, and the delay in taking concerted action has been due solely to the fact that no one was ready to take the initial step. It is pointed out that a Roman Catholic young man on going to a strange city has no one there to take an interest in him. The Y.M.C.A. has a secretary waiting for the stranger. He is cordially helped where help is needed, aided in getting employment and suitable lodgings are found for him.

"The idea its to erect in each city association buildings where Roman Catholic young men may assemble as they do in the Y.M.C.A., where reading-rooms shall contain literature, embracing newspapers, magazines and standard works, and where the young men of the church may have a well-equipped gymnasium, which is to be an especial feature to attract, as it will, so many where men may obtain aid to employment of suitable homes when coming from other cities."

THE TROLLEY DISASTER. General Manager Houseman Bla A Defective Wire. (BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)

ST. LOUIS (Mo.,) March 11.—General Manager James Houseman is coming in for a great deal of blame for the accident on the St. Louis and Kirkwood electric line, in which three men lost their lives and many more were seriously injured Sunday evening. He is still inclined, however, to lay the fault on Motorman Alken, who was killed at his post, and who, Houseman says, was running his car at the time of the accident in violation of the rules of the company.

One fact has leaked out which will show the company was primarily to plame for the whole trouble. A defecblame for the whole trouble. A defective trolley wire that worked badly from the start, caused the delay which resulted in the catastrophe. It is known also that the company had no printed rules for the guidance of employés. Each man was given verbal instructions by Houseman, it is now claimed, and they were expected to remember and obey them.

The first suit for damages as the result of the accident has been filed by Dr. Marshall of this city, who asks for $25,000. His leg was broken and he suffered other injuries.

A Clothing Firm Assigns.

ROCHESTER (N. Y..) Masch 11.—A general assignment was filed this morning by Rothschild, Baum & Stern, one of the largest clothing-manufacturing firms in this city. The liabilities are estimated at $400,000, largely in New York and this city. The investment in a large retail store in Chicago caused the loss.

The Missing Witness

Endeavoring to Start a School at Ensenada,

Went Southward.

Name Miss Flower-She Buys a Copy of The Times to Read of the Brown Case.

ENSENADA (Mex.) March 11.—(Special Dispatch.) Mrs. Tunnell, the missing witness in the Dr. Brown case, is in Ensenada, without doubt. She arrived on the 2d inst. on the overland mail from Tia Juana. It is unusual for passengers to travel this way, and it occasioned surprise as a steamer arrived that day and three days previous. Her first inquiry was in regard to the San Francisco and Los Angeles daily papers. After inquiring at the post-office and other places she finally secured a Times and removed the portion cured a Times and removed the portion relating to Dr. Brown's trial, afterward returning the same with apologies, but continued an assiduous search for daily papers. This and other statements made, though she was very reticent, caused people to suspect that she was none other than Mrs. Tunnell, and she none other than Mrs. Tunnell, and she was recognized yesterday by a passenger bound south on the steamer Willamette Valley as the missing witness.

To a correspondent who interviewed her this afternoon, she denied that she was Mrs. Tunnell, stating that her name was Miss Flower; that she had been a school teacher in San Francisco. been a school teacher in San Francisco for twenty-five years, but that she was personally acquainted with Dr. Brown and therefore took an interest in his welfare. In answer to why she came overland, she said that she was inter-ested in the World's Christian Coöperative Society, a concern operated in San Francisco some months ago, and, after arriving here, applied at the office of the Mexican Land and Colomization of the Mexican Land and Colomization Company in regard to the title of lands claimed by that organization.

At present the woman is endeavoring to establish a school in English. She has made inquisy as to the most direct route to Nicaragua. She was suspected here several days ago of being the missing witness; and it was understood that the way to leave for the horder on the she was to leave for the border on the overland stage today, which doubtless was her intention until she became aware that she was suspected. To the correspondent she stated that she only went to the stage office to recover a shawl which had been lost, and that she had no intention of leaving Ensenada for some weeks to come. THE DOCTOR'S STORY.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 11.-Dr. C O. Brown was the only witness who appeared today before the Congregational council before which he is being tried on charges of immorality. The investigation covered a wide hattude, and at times the questions asked by the ministers aroused the pastor's anger. He accused the ministers of showing a disposition to doubt his statements, and at last became so vexed that it was necessary for his own counsel to admonish him that his inquisitors were only performing their duty.

Before commencing, however, Dr. Brown objected to the presence of O. Brown was the only witness who ap-

Brown objected to the presence of newspaper artists. He said he might have to put bandages on his head, and he did not want his pictures to appear that way in the papers. It was decided to exclude the artists, but, after a heated discussion, this action was finally rescinded, and Dr. Brown went on with his story.

heated discussion, this action was finally rescinded, and Dr. Brown went on with his story.

Dr. Brown's marrative began with his trip to Tacoma two years ago, when he was accompanied by Miss Overman. He admitted that he occupied a berth in the the sleeping car above Miss Overman, but said he did so at the suggestion of friends who thought it would be better for him to occupy the benth than to have it assigned to a stranger. He denied that anything took place on the journey that reflected on the character of either himself or Miss Overman.

The minister was taken to task by the council for keeping secrets from his wife. He admitted that he did not tell Mrs. Brown that he had paid $500 to Mrs. Davidson until three weeks after the event, and that he failed to tell her about Mrs. Stockton kissing him until a month after. He also said nothing about a letter couched in familiar terms which was written to him by Miss Overman. In explanation the doctor said he kept these things from his wife because he feared it might unnecessarily disturb her peace of mind. He kind the worried.

Dr. Brown denied that he induced and he did not wish airs. Shown to be worried.

Dr. Brown denied that he induced mr. Tunnell to accompany Miss Overman to Tacoma for the purpose of giving Miss Overman medical treatment. He admitted that he had sent money to Mrs. Tunnell since she left the city, but denied that he was instrumental in securing Mrs. Tunnell's departure from the city in order to prevent her from appearing as a witness before the council.

from appearing as a witness before the council.

Dr. Tenney, who conducted the cross-examination for the council, questioned Dr. Brown very closely as to why he paid the $500 to Mrs. Davidson, The minister was asked if he did not know the payment of money was against the presumption of innocence. Brown replied that he paid the money in order to obtain a receipt which he considered tangible evidence upon which to base the prosecution of Mrs. Davidson. He said his attorney advised him not to prosecute Mrs. Davidson on account of the scandal such an action would precipitate, but to have the police compel her to leave the city. He declized to take the advice.

Dr. Brown said he had evidence to prove that Mrs. Davidson had tried to dompel a woman in Fruitvale to impersonate Mrs. Baddin, the woman for whom Mrs. Davidson says she obtained the money from Dr. Brown. The minister said Mrs. Weldsley told him Mrs. Davidson had tried to pose as Mrs. Baddin.

At the evening session George W.

Bickford, the man who found and published the Tunnel letters, was a witness. He told how Mrs. Tunnel had asked him to care for some of her belongings while she was out of town. She appeared to be worried, and said she had lost two important letters. This was before the scandal became public, but he remembered her expression and scarched through her effects for letters. He found several of them hidden in a coal scuttle and a coal-oil can. The letters were scattered about, and some of them were out of the envelopes. This part of Bickford's testimony is considered important, as Miss Overman testified that when she returned the letters to Mrs. Tunnel they were in a bundle. Bickford's story was not shaken by cross-examination, though his character and motives were vigorously attacked.

The next witness was Mrs. Hilda Barton, who was associated with Mrs Tunnell in the cobperative restaurant. She said that Mrs. Tunnel was very poor, and sometimes did not have enough to eat. They were intimate friends, but Mrs. Tunnell suddenly disappeared, and was gone several months. When she returned she said she had been to Tacoma with Miss Overman, and that Dr. Brown had paid her expenses and had given her file for spending money. Mrs. Tunnell told her that Miss Overman was in love and had gotten into a scrape and gone north for medical treatment. The following Christmas Mrs. Tunnell had $300, $100 of which she invested in the restaurant. Mrs. Barton asked her where she got it, and she said from the same place 4-he got money before. All she had to do was to talk and she could have plenty of money. On cross-examination Mrs. Barton asked her where she got it, and she said from the same place 4-he got money before. All she had to do was to talk and she could have plenty of money. On cross-examination Mrs. Barton became badly mixed as to dates, and the value of her testimony was lessened.

Dr. Brown was recalled and denied that Mrs. Barton had ever seen him at a meeting of the Allen mission as she had testified. The council then adjou

San Francisco with Two and a Half Millions in Coin with

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TIMES.)
SAN FRANCISCO, March 11.—(Special Dispatch.) English capitalists are on the way to San Francisco from Lon don with $2,500,000 in their possession which it is their purpose to exchang with C. H. Phillips of San Bernardin county for the title to the 40,000 acres of land known as the Chino ranch. A cablegram was received today by Wei cablegram was received today by wendell Easton, a real estate agent, stating that the party had left England on the steamship Teutonic of the White Starline, and was coming prepared to pay the Angio-Californian Bank £500,000 to Negotiations for the purchase of the Chino ranch began in August last, when a syndicate of Bostonians was said to a syndicate of Bostonians was said to have offered to purchase 20,000 acres of land at $50 an acre. At this time the firm of Easton & Eldridge had an option on the property for $1,600,000, and was negotiating with an English syndiwas negotiating with an English syndi cate for the sale at $2,500,000.

A. W. Morgan, a London chartered countant, was sent here as an exper of the syndicate to report upon the project, and his report was forwarded some two or three months ago. Prov-ing satisfactory, the syndicate took an option upon the property at the price stated. The option will expire on March 26, and the members and representa-tives of the syndicate are hastening hither in order to complete the pur-chase before that time. It is the in-tention of the purchasers to colonize the tract with families from England, and to devote it to the cultivation of sugar beets. Ten thousand acres of ranch land have been planted to beets this year and the crop contracted to the Chino sugar factory, which belongs to the trust, and is not included in the deal.

W. H. Holabird, who is superintendent of the immense ranch, devoted considerable time with Expert Morgan to an investigation of the ranch and its adaptability to the purposes to which it is to be devoted, with the result that the report showed that the land will produce alfalfa, citrus and deciduous truits, in addition to beets, and therefore is adapted to diversified agriculture.

C. H. Phillips, owner of the ranch, is also the owner of the townsite of Chino, but he does not part with his title to the town property, and reserves from the sale 1000 acres of the ranch lands as well. If his predictions prove true, these alone will be of as great value within a few years as the lands sold. He thinks that Chino will soon have a population of 50,000 people, and says it is the best town in the State today.

KOKOMO (Ind.,) March 11.—A light ning matrimonial act was performed ning matrimonial act was performed here yesterday that is believed to break the record. The feat of changing her name three times in three minutes was successfully accomplished by Olive Smith. At 2:50 o'clock she went into court and obtained a divorce from Francis M. Trader; from there she repaired to the clerk's office on the floor below and secured a license to marry Joseph N. Tyler, and before the ink was dry on divorce or license Squire Loop was pronouncing the ceremony that made her Mrs. Tyler. In the divorce her maiden name of Smith was restored, leaving her three names in three minutes.

Slaughter of Innocents.

HINSDALE (Ill.,) March 11.—While the three young children of William L. Blackman of Blackman Bros., commission merchants, were being driven home from a concert last night, their carriage was struck by a train on the Burlington Railway. Carlos, the youngest son, was instantly killed, as was the coachman. Samuel Russell. Willis, the eldest son, was terribly injured, and will probably die. Margery, the youngest daughter, has a broken leg, and is badly bruised. She will probably recover.

NEW YORK, March 11.—Within one day of the eighth anniversary of the great blizzard, a storm is prevailing here and along the Atlantic Coast from New England southward, which is a powerful reminder of that terrible incident in the history of New York. The hurricane signal is displayed for the second time this season. Snow is falling in great quantities, but melting almost as fast as it falls. Lower temperature and increaing wind are predicted for tonight.

The Republican State convention which concluded this afternoon its session of two days was more of a McKin-ley rally than the usual party business assembly. It was held two or three months earlier than usual, in order to months earlier than usual, in order to proclaim to the country the sentiment of McKinley's State. Not since the indorsement of R. B. Hayes for the Presidency at the Republican State convention, 1876, has there been such a harmonious meeting of representative Republicans in Ohio. When Senator Sherman was indorsed for President at the State conventions of 1880, 1884 and 1888 there were bitter contests, and it required considerable effort in 1892 to prevent open opposition in the Ohio State convention to Harrison for a second term. At that time Charles Foster was Secretary of the Treasury, and is credited with having controlled the convention.

was Secretary of the Treasury, and is credited with having controlled the convention.

Sherman and Foraker will sit in the Senate together, but for several years the Republicans of Ohio have had what became known as "the Sherman faction" and "the Foraker faction." In the Senatorial contest of 1882 the Foraker men claimed that their favorite would have defeated Senator Sherman's rediection, but for the help given "the Sherman faction" by the McKinley State administration. At that time Charles Kinney was one of the most aggressive Sherman men, and has always been a most enthusiastic McKinley man. He was chief clerk in the office of Secretary of State under Daniel B. Yyan from 1889 to 1893, and has occupied the same position ever since under the Secretary of State S. M. Taylor.

inner the secretary of State 5. M. Taylor.

Kinney's only opponent for the nomination was E. W. Doty. It was claimed yesterday that the old factional lines were being drawn in the contest between Kinney and Doty. Accordingly a conference of leaders was held last night attended by all the delegates-atlarge and others, at which it was decided to bring out Gen. A. T. Wykoff, who had often been chairman of the State convention, and had a great record as a harmonizer as well as a campaign manager. Gen. Wykoff was Secretary of State when R. B. Hayes was Governor, and was the manager of the retary of State when R. B. Hayes was Governor, and was the manager of the Hayes interest at the Republican convention in Cincinnati, 1876, when Hayes was nominated over Blaine, Conkling, Morton, Logan and others. Wykoff was the pension agent for Ohio under Hayes. As Kinney and Doty had made the canvass, it was the plan to give them both a good complimentary vote and have enough votes to go to Wykoff to prevent a nomination on the first ballot and then nominate Wykoff on the second ballot. But Kinney went in against the field and got one vote more than he needed, with all the old wheelhorses working for what they called "a bigger man."

horses working for what they called "a bigger man."
Kinney is a young man and his friends appealed to the younger element to make a stand against the unfortunate daddies, as they called them. While all the men on the ticket are McKinley men, there was no special significance in the selection of any of them except that of Kinney for the head of the ticket.

It is understood that McKinley wrote, or dictated, the tariff and financial vention. AS IT WAS DONE. COLUMBUS (O.,) March 11.—The Grand Operationse was unable again today to give admission to more than half of those holding tickets. Some delegates to the Republican State Conhalf of those holding tickets, Some delegates to the Republican State Convention even were crowded out. At 10:15 o'clock Senator-elect Foraker called the convention to order. The stage was crowded with Ohio Congressmen and party leaders. Ex-Secretary Charles Foster had a seat near the presiding officer. The Committee on Credentials reported in favor of seating the "committee" delegation from Muskingum as against the "mass convention" delegation. The report was adopted, with a resolution against county committees assuming power in the future of appointing delegates. The temporary organization was unanimously made permanent.

Chairman Foraker briefly acknowledged the double honor. Congressman J. M. Taylor, chairman of the Committee on Resolutions, reported the platform, which was greeted with frequent applause and adopted. The platform, which declared strongly for protection and reciprocity, denounces the present "Democratic administration as the most destructive and disastrous the history of our country has ever known. It has not only disappointed the collowing, which was adopted:

"Resolved, that Asa S. Bushnell, Joseph B. Foraker, Charles H. Grosvenor and Marcus A. Robert M. Nevin presented the names of Dr. J. E. Lowes of Dayton, Senator Charles Fleischman of Cincinnati, exsenator John P. Green of Cleveland, and Congressman John N. Taylor of New Lisbon for alternates-at-large. The rules were suspended, and the four selected by acclamation. Congressman Charles H. Grovenor presented the names of I. F. The roll of eighty-eight counties was called for nominations for State offices. The names of Charles Kinney of Scioto, Gen. A. T. Wykoff of Frank-lin and E. W. Doty of Cuyahoga were presented for the nomination of Secretary of State. The ballot resulted: Doty. 206: Kinney. 427; Wykoff, 217. Necessary to a choice, 426. Kinney's nomination was made unanimous. Marshall J. Williams, the incumbent, was renominated for Supreme Judge by acclamation, under suspension of the rules.

clamation, under suspension of the rules.

The platform is as follows:

The Republicans of Ohio congratulate the people of the country upon the growth of Republican sentiment as evidenced by the signal victories of the last three years, which assure a glorious national triumph in, the coming election.

We denounce the Democratic administration as the most destructive and disastrous the history of our country has ever known. It has not only disappointed the expectations of the country, but has justly forfeited the confidence and support of its own party.

We affirm our adherence to the principles of the Republican party as defined by the national convention in 1892. We are faitfully wedded to the great principle of protection by every the of party fealty and affection, and it is dearer to us now than ever before. It has more devoted supporters among the mass of American people than at any previous period in our national history.

It is everywhere recognized and emotorsed as the great

It is everywhere recognized and endorsed as the great masterful triumphant American principle: a key to our prosperity in business, the safest proto the freasury of the United States, and the bulwark of our national independence and financial honor.

We denounce the present tariff law as the sublimated product of Democratic ignorance and incompetence, bringing, as it has, to a prosperous and happy people a period of unprecedented adversity and districts from which nothing but a return to the policy of protection can relieve.

We denounce the free-wool provision of the present tariff law as an unjust discrimination against an important industry, and against a large part of our people, and demand such protection for sheep husbandry as will secure fair prices for American wool.

The people of Ohio take satisfaction in the expressions, coming from every section of our common country, of popular approval of their distinguished fellow-citizen, William McKinley. The great advocate of protection who has all his life stood for America, its factories, its farms, its firesides, finds his reward in the confidence and affection of the people whose interests have been his constant care. The Republicans of Ohio pledge him anew the absolute, loyal and unswerving support of his State at the national convention and instruct the delegates chosen to represent Ohio to redeem this riedge.

There was a hot contest over the nomination for Food and Dairy Commissioner. J. E. Blackburn of Belmont was nominated, on the second ballot. The Wholesale Grocers and Manufacturers' Association made a fight against Dr. McNeil, the incumbent, who had the support of the Board of Public Works Frank A. Hoffman of Vanwert was nominated. Then the convention adjourned sine die.

HOUSES IN AN UPROAR.

Scenes Following the Turn

FRANKFORT (Ky.,) March 11.—This, the 11th day of March, will be an unen-viable memory in the history of Ken-tucky politics. Blind partisanship and bitter passion usurped the place of cool judgment and sober thought. At times it looked as if there might be an outcame known outside that the House break of mob violence. When it became known outside that the House had unseated Kaufman, the Democrat, and that the Senate had unseated two Republicans, James and Walton, the aspect looked so threatening that many of the great crowd that thronged the corridors made a rush to get away. There was an unseemly rush for the joint assembly door, which was guarded by a large body of armed men.

At one time the explosive point was almost reached. That point would doubtless have been reached if the Republicans had attempted to force the unseated Senators into the joint assembly meeting. Kaufman, the Democrat unseated Senators into the joint assembly meeting. Kaufman, the Democrat unseated Senators for in the joint assembly hall. This made honors about even on that score, and tended to promote peace. There were revolvers waiting silent, but ready at the hall door, and had any one wanted trouble he could have had it.

Within the hall of the joint assembly matters were made to run smoothly by the ruling of Speaker Worthington that the clerk of each house should call the roll for the vote of the house. Once under way the joint assembly proceeded to business in true parliamentary style. When it adjourned every member left the hall in a good humor. The breaking of the quorum indicates this will be the strategy of both parties through the few days that remain of this session, and that neither party will elect a Senator.

IN JOINT ASSEMBLY.

LOUISVILLE (Ky.) March 11.—A special to the Post from Frankfort says that after the House convened this morning the clerk read the refusal of Duniop to prosecute his contest against Kaufman. The Democrats claimed the very moment he so decided the House had no power to unseat Kaufman. very moment he so decided the House had no power to unseat Kaufman. The speaker held in deciding the question that it was perfectly competent for Dunlop, before the case had been prosecuted to the end, to have abandoned the contest, but he had no such right after the case had been tried. A vote was ordered on the minority report declaring Dunlop entitled to the seat held by Kaufman. Poor and Edrington, the Populists, voted with the Democrats. The Republicans voted solidly to unseat and the minority re-Democrats. The Republicans votes solidly to unseat and the minority report was adopted by a vote of 49 to 46. The announcement caused.

Democrats. The Republicans voted solidly to unseat and the minority report was adopted by a vote of 49 to 46. The announcement caused much excitement among the Democrats, who had not expected such a result.

On roliveall to adopt the majority report the Democrats, left the House to break a quorum, but did not succeed. Speaker Blanford, during the confusion, ordered the sergeant-atarms to summon a posse to keep order. A motion to reconsider the motion to extend the session of the House after the joint assembly was adopted. As soon as the news of the action of the House reached the Senate, Benator Goebel moved the adoption of an amendment to the rules. The motion was seconded by Bronston amid the wildest confusion. The chair refused to put the motion, and kept up continual loud rapping. The clerk read the amendment. The chair declared the proceedings revolutionary. Bronston, waving his arms frantically, shouted to the clerk to call the roll. Jones moved the Senate adjourn. Amid the wildest excitement, the Lieutenant-Governor declared the Senate adjourn. Amid the wildest excitement, the Lieutenant-Governor declared the Senate adjourned, and with the Republican members left the chamber.

The report of the Committee on Elections was then read. The roll was called, and Walton and James were declared ineligible to seats in the Senate by a vote of 21 to 0. Wild cheers from the Democrats followed. James then left the Senate chamber before the vote to unseat him was taken apdentered the House. Walton was not so fortunate and is refused admittance. Many men are armed and a tragedy may result.

A rush was made for the door of the House to prevent the entrance of the two unseated Senators. Senator James was already in the House. Hot words followed and trouble seemed imminent. A threat was heard to throw the first Senator over the bannister who attempted to enter the House. The

A threat was heard to throw the first Senator over the bannister who attempted to enter the House. The Blackburn men declared that they would put James out of the House. Dunlop was prevented from entering the hall to take his seat.

When the joint assembly convened, Speaker Blandford issued orders that only members or persons entitled to the privilege of the floor, be admitted. At 12:05 o'clock the door-keeper amounced the Senate. The Speaker, before recognizing the Senate, said the door-keeper of the House had full control of the door. Bronston declared the ruling was without precedents.

He shouted, "I move that Senator Goebel be made presiding officer of the assembly."

A storm of "navs" arose.

He shouted, "I move that Senator Goebel be made presiding officer of the assembly."

A storm of "nays" arose.

Lieut.-Gov. Worthington rapped for order. Senator Salier implored the members not to do anything that would bring disgrace on Kentucky. (Cheers.) Bronston called attention to rule 11 of the joint assembly, and made the point that the clerk of the Senate and the clerk of the joint assembly shall call the roll of the entire joint assembly. The presiding officer ruled that the clerk of the House would call the roll of the House would call the roll of the House while the clerk of the Senate called the roll of the Senate. The calling of the role then began. The clerk, in calling the names of members of the Senate, omitted to call those of James and Walton. The clerk of the House omitted the name of Kaufman (Dem.). The poll-call showed 120 members present with two pairs. The ballot for Senator then began.

Edrington voted for Blackburn, while Poor refused to vote. Plesmith voted for Buckner. The Republicans refused to vote. The ballot resulted: Blackburn, 54; Carlisle, 10; Buckner, 1. The chair deelded that as only 65 votes had been cast there was no quorum. The Assembly adjourned at once.

Throughout the excitement Blackburn was in the Senate cloakroom. When the altercation with threats of personal violence occurred between Bronston and Walton, Blackburn started up and exclaimed: "Let me get out." He was restrained by friends. The Republicans of the Senate made a mistake when they refused to vote on the question of declaring Walton and James incligible to seats. Had the Republicans all voted "no," it is claimed ymany Senators that he would not have been legally unseated, as it requires a two-thirds vote to expel a member. The opinion prevails that there will be no election because the Rapublicans will refuse to vote from day to day and thereby break a quorum.

DUNIOP'S MIND MADE UP.
RANKFORT (Ky.,) March 11.—W.
Duniop, who on yesterday afternoon
harw from his contest of the seat
Representative Kaufman, returned Frankfort today and immediately belief by the friends of the Republican Senatorial nominee, who endeavored in vain-to induce him to withdraw his letter addressed to Mr. Blanford, Speaker of the House, in which he abandoned the contest.

In an interview Dunlop said: "My decision in the matter was made only after a long and careful deliberation. It is final, and I will never consent to enter the contest again. The House may go ahead and unseat Mr. Kaufman, but it cannot compel me to vote. I will refuse to take the seat now if the House decides me entitled to it. Of course, in the event the House votes to unseat Kaufman and puts me in, I shall be in the power of the House, and they can force me to go into the joint assembly, but they cannot force me to vote. I came to Frankfort today expecting to receive all kinds of vilification and abuse, and am prepared to stand it. All of it, however, will not change me in the least."

o'clock, and Congressman Polliver was elected temporary chairman.

Mr. Dolliver made a speech in part as follows:

"The demand of the hour is for somebody who understands the every-day business of the government of the United States who can read the account books on both sides, what we take in and what we pay out. We have just now a business management that has neither the energy to save the internal revenue from the hands of distillers, nor the customhouse from the ingenuity of importers. Within a year every shady scheme of undervaluation has come forth to enjoy the picnic season of ad valorem duties until reputable merchants are already asking the House Committee on Ways and Means to exact a peddler's license from the agents of foreign factories, in order that legitimate merchants may not be driven from the trade. Inadequate and unjust as the present system is, I do not hesitate to say that an effectual collection of the revenues authorized by its terms would go far toward covering the current deficit in the receipts.

"We need somebody in charge who can tell the difference between a dollar collected and a dollar borrowed. For one I want the exact equality of paper with coin and of all existing coins of the same denomination with each other inviolably preserved. That man is a poor student of the national welfare who would invite the gold gamblers to bring back their tables to the centers of American business that theves may again fatten on the fluctuations of the money of the American people. Without disparaging any Republican leader, we are justified in the conviction that troubled interests of trade and commerce would find a welcome accurity in the nomination of the man who was generously commended to Garfield, in the letter of Mr. Blaine, which is at once a tribute to Senator Allison's profound mastery of the problems of national finance and a memorial to the frieadship which began on the day they entered the House of Representatives together, and ended only in the Valley of the Shadow of Death.

"For mont

retary a serene triumph of hope over experience.

"The Populist remedy, a remedy in which an influential group of other parties unite, is to close matters up by abandoning the present basis of American business, on which all existing contracts stand, and taking refuge from public and private creditors alke in the unlimited issue of silver dollars, gratuitously manufactured for the owner out of material, worth in the neighborhood of 50 cents.

"The Republican party, without concealing its desire to continue the largest practical use of silver short of introducing dangerous elements of disturbance and fluctuation into our coinage, refuses to follow the counsel of either. The true remedy lies not in prelious experiments in which we wanted perilous experiments in banking, cur-ferency and coinage, but in the prompt provision of an adequate national-rev-enue. That is the first step, and it can-not be taken too soon. But the increase of revenue, in order to be useful, must be brought into the treasury in such a way as will protect the occupations of way as will protect the occupations of

be brought into the treasury in such a way as will protect the occupations of our own people.

"No man has been proposed for the nomination whose election would not bring honor to the chief office of the people, but among all the illustrious men who are presented for the favor of the party, in this year of hope and victory, not one outranks in ripened preparation for its duties the unassuming leader of Republicanism of Towa, whose name is on the lips and in the hearts of all our people today, William B. Allison."

The address was frequently interrupted by applause, which became tremendous at every reference to Allison. Four thousand people were present. The convention was the most enthuslastic in the history of the Stafe. The delegates-at-lafge were chosen together by resolution: J. S. Clarkson, D. B. Henderson, John H. Gear and W. P. Hepburn; for alternates-at-large, Phil Schaller of Sloux City, H. G. Mc-Millan of Lyons, C. J. Erricson of Boone, George M. Curtis of Clinton. The convention was without doubt the most enthusiastic ever held in the State, and was, from beginning to end, an Allison convention: It was manifest that he was the first and last choice of the Bepublicans of Iowa. During the entire day's proceedings no other candidate was suggested. The names of Blaine and Harrison, when mentioned by the speakers, were invariably applanded. It was a convention of oratory and enthusiasm from beginning to end.

LONDON, March 11.—(By Atlantic Cable.) William Vernon Harcourt, the Parliamentary leader of the Opposition, made a political speech tonight at Boscombe, in which he dwe' in grave terms upon the condition of British foreign relations. He declared that ever since the present government had been in office, England had been in the midst of a hurricane of foreign compilications, blowing from every quarter. Their foreign policy had been neither glorious nor economical. Witness Armenia and the budget estimates. The splendid isolation of which the government was so proud was the outcome of jingoism.

The situation abroad, Sir William continued, had never been so grave within the memory of living man. The Armenian difficulty, he said, was a legacy of Beaconsfield statesmanship. Venezuela, he pointed out, was the gravest difficulty which menaced us, he regretted that the Blue Book had not been published in December, in place of Lord Salisbury's dispatches. No word should escape his lips, however, to embarrass the government in obtaining a peaceful and honorable settlement.

GROVER AND SALISBURY. WASHINGTON, March 11.—It is rumored here that it is not improbable that the dispute between Great Britain and Venezuela, over the boundary question will be settled by President Cleveland and Lord Salisbury, without the intervention of the Venezuelan Commission. It is also said the President has been aware of this for several days.

The Senator, in this connection, paid a glowing tribute to Secretary Olney, and, while differing with him politically, said the Secretary of State was a clear-headed, old-fashioned Massachusseits Yankee, who could be safely trusted with our foreign negotiations. The Senator added a like tribute to the sincerity of President Cleveland, in dealing with the Venezuelan question and declared that any action by Congress attacking the President's course would be an attack on America.

Senator Hoar's reason for postponement lost 12s parliamentary status at 2 o'clock and went to the calendar. Senator Sherman announced that from this time forward he would press the privileged question, the conference report accepting the House Cuban resolutions.

FIFTY-FOURTH CONGRESS. REGULAR SESSION.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.) WASHINGTON, March 11 .- SEN ATE.—A downpour of sleet did not deter the crowds from coming to the Capitol today and taking possession of the Senate galleries.

I sometimes differ with him, but always with profound respect for him."

The same condition of public irritation had stung the Spanish Minister at Washington to a violation of the customary diplomatic proish Minister at Washington to a violation of the customary diplomatic proprieties. It indicated the excited condition of feeling prevailing. It was contrary to that calmness and dignity with which great subjects should be dealt. This was not a time for imitation of the clamor of mobs, but for the exercise of the judicial faculty. Senator Hoar spoke of the entire absence of facts and information on the Cuban question. The Committee on Foreign Relations had considered it, and it had brought in a resolution without any report of the facts. The committee had cited a document which, on inquiry, proved to be the statement of the agent in this country of the Cubans.

without any report of the facts. The committee had cited a document which, on inquiry, proved to he the statement of the agent in this country of the Cubans.

Senator Sherman protested against this broad characterisation of the committee and insisted there was much information which Senator Hoar prevented his seeing. Amid much laughter, Senator Hoar brought his respected friend to let him proceed without interruption.

"I am not prepared," said he ironically, "to go to war on the authority of an historian whose name the Senator from Maine did not know, and whose name the Senator from Maine did not know, and whose name the Senator from Alabama, (Mr. Morgan.) who knows more than all of us put together, had forgotten, and an article in the encyclopedia by Clarence King. If the Committee on Foreign Relations had examined, considered and weighed these alleged facts and affirmed that they found any of them true, I fail to recall it."

Senator Sherman interposed to protest that Senator Hoar was not stating the case fairly, calling his attention to the official consular correspondence from the State Department, which was comprised in a volume of 250 pages.

Senator Hoar responded somewhat testily that what he complained of was comprised in a volume of 250 pages.

Senator Hoar responded somewhat testily that what he complained of was the fact that the Committee on Foreign Relations had made no investigation. It was not stile to report what was true and what was not true.

Senator Hoar waned the Senators that the adoption of the resolutions meant the denial of the rule of international law which we insisted on so strenuously during the rebellion, and to which the United States committed itself through our Ministers to all foreign courts, including Spain.

The committee, in reporting it, should have added the proviso, "it is to be distinctly understood that this is a Pickwickian resolution without force or view." distinctly understood that this is a Pickwickian resolution without force or vigor, or potency, or meaning."

In offering this resolution, he said, we had not dared to tell Spain that we recognized the insurgents; we had not dared to give the President authority to take decisive action. It was merely a mooted debate, to allow Senators to see who could make the most eloquent and flery speech. Here Senator to see who could make the most eloquent and flery speech. Here Senator Hoar related a story showing that public excitement did not always bring serious resolutions. Applying to the local situation, the Senator said: "If we see a great crowd gathering about the navy yard, and much excitement prevailing, it does not mean that we are going to have a war, but an election is going on." The laughter had hardly subsided, when Senator Hoar added: "And so it is with this resolution from the committee. After all it may not mean war, but that a Presidential election is approaching."

The Senator said if this resolution was adopted, and any American maker of arms sold arms to the Cubans he should be indicted for a violation of the neutrality laws, and would have no defense in the resolution recognizing the

"Is not that so?" I ask my honorable friend from Ohio?" asked Senator Hoar, addressing Senator Sherman.

"Is there any doubt on that legal proposition?"

addressing Senator Sherman.

"Is there any doubt on that legal proposition?"

Senator Sherman did not answer, and Serator Hoar, continuing, said all this agitation availed nothing. The President was the only power capable of relieving ambassadors, making treaties and recognizing belligerents.

At this point Senator Hoar created a stir by an unexpected eulogy of Secretary Olney. The Senator led up to this by referring to the constant medding of Congress with foreign affairs. He referred to the Venezuela question, in which, however, the curse of Congress had been temperate. But if it had been found that the President was conducting negotiations with Great Britain on that subject that it would have been well for the press and the public and the Senate to let it alone and allow the negotiations to proceed in the usual channels of the State Department.

"Mr. Olney has got a very good head.

Senator Hoar related how the first Napoleon was walking with a lady, when a workman, bearing a heavy burden, was encountered. The haughty woman sought to have the workman step aside, but the Emperor said: "Madame, respect the burden." Applying this to the great Venezuela controversy, Senator Hoar said he felt like saying to the critics of President Cleveland. "Respect the burden."

The presiding officer announced that at 2 o'clock Senator Hoar's resolutions would lose their place and go to the senator Sherman interposed that he proposed to keep the privileged question, the conference report agreeing to the House Cuban resolutions, before the Senate. He did not intend to allow it to be put aside by this resolution of Senator Hoar's for delay. The presiding officer announced that, in view of the objection interposed by Senator Morgan, the Hoar resolution would go to the calendar. This closed the Cuban debate for the day and the galleries were quickly emptied.

The Senate them took up the Dupont case and Senator Turple continued his argument in opposition to Mr. Dupont's claim.

"Does the Senator decline to answer asquestion?" asked Senator Mitchell.
"I want to draw a contrast."
"I will not interrupt you any more," interjected Senator Mitchell.
"I am glad of it," was the reply, "but still I am going to draw that contrast. During all the long argument of the Senator I sat and listened to him, never dreaming of interruption. I knew I would have an opportunity to reply, as the Senator will have an opportunity to answer my statements."
Senator Mitchell said that if the Senator from Indiana meant to intimate that his request was unreasonable, the Senator from Indiana was going outside of parliamentary conduct.
"The Senator from Oregon has interrupted me again," said Senator Turple, "I have not used unparliamentary language."
When the little whirlwind of words

"I have not used unparliamentary language."

When the little whiriwind of words had subsided Senator Turple continued his argument. HOUSE—The House today passed the Postoffice Appropriation Bill, which has been under consideration since last Friday. The feature of the debate today was the attack on the "spy system" in connection with letter-carriers. The salaries of the special inspectors have been paid, under the current law, out of a fund at the disposal of the First Assistant Postmaster-General This fund was cut off by the presentabil, but provisions were made for the employment of thirty additional regular inspectors under the Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General, increasing that the control of the duce the appropriation to $176,000 prevailed by 70 to 57. After the debate bill was reported to the House Mr. Bromwell of Ohio offered an amendment to etrike out the appropriation of $196,000 for special mail facilities from Boston to New Orleans, which was retained in the bill after a hard struggle yesterday. But his motion was defeated on a yea and nay vote by 111 to 134.

Tomorrow the Aldrich-Robbins contested election case will be called up. Several bils! of minor importance were cassed, including a bill directing the place and time of holding the terms of the United States District and Circuit courts in South Dakota.

THE HAWAHAN CABLE.

THE HAWAIIAN CABLE. WASHINGTON, March 11,-The Se WASHINGTON, March 11.—The Senate Committee on Foreign Relations to-day resumed consideration of the bill providing for a telegraphic cable line between this country and Hawali, but adjourned without arriving at a definite conclusion. It was apparent that the majority of the committee are favorable to granting government aid in construction of the cable, but it is not clear whether they are united upon either proposed lines to the exclusion of others. Senators Gray, Turple and Mills are opposed to granting a subsidy. The committee is disposed to rish the question to a speedy conclusion,

THE ANTI-OPTION BILL.
WASHINGTON, March 11.—House Committee on Agriculture, by a vote of 9 to 6, decided to lay upon the table the Anti-Options (Hatch) Bill, This practically kills the measure for this Congress.

The bill practically was the one fath ered by ex-Congressman Hatch of Missouri, known as the Hatch Bill. It has been under consideration for several weeks, and the meeting today was a decidedly soley one, although the decision was reached practically by a party vote, the Republicans opposing the bill, and the Democrats supporting it.

Mr. Willis of Delaware did not vote it.

Mr. Willis of Delaware did not vote with his party on the measure, and made a warm speech, in which he accused his colleagues with being in league with the "speculators and gamblers of Wall street," as he termed them

The vote to lay the bill on the table was: Ayes Messrs. Wadsworth of New York, chairman; Staple of Pennsylvania, Warner of Illinois, Henry of Connecticut, Saurhering of Wisconsin, Leighey of Indiana, Baker of Maryland, Wilbur of New York, Murphy of Illinois, Republicans.

Nays: Messrs. Willis of Delaware, Republican; Moses of Georgia, Williams of Wisconsin, Clary of Kentucky, Stocker of North Carolina, Populist. Kem. Populist.

Most of the talking was done by the Democratic members. The Republicans had already an understanding on their policy and did not care to do anything but vote. Their opponents pressed them to report the bill to the House even if an unfavorable report was to be made, so that a vote would be had upon it. Murphy averred that the Republicans were opposed to employing the taxing power as a penalty to prevent any line of business, where upon Mr. Moses inquired if they would unite with the Democrats to repeal the 10-per cent. tax on the circulation of State banks. Another very warm speech was made by Mr. Kem, the Populist member.

One of the most important application of the rays has been made surgically. By placing a subject to be examined before a screen faced with a mixture of barium, platinum and cyanogen, and allowing the rays from a tube inclosed in a dark cloth to traverse the body, the impression can be seen by tne eye on the screen, which is rendered fluorescent where the rays fall uninterruptedly upon it, and the surgeon is consequently enabled to view the subject freely before the screen, and examine the interior of the body for foreign substances or hurtful growths and distorted bones.

TAX SHARPS.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE. CHICAGO, March 11.-The Times-

Herald today says that thousands of dollars have been floched from the city treasury through a ciever scheme con-cocted by three tax sharks, a clerk in cocted by three tax sharks, a clerk in the Comptroller's office and another in the special assessment bureau. The steal was accomplished by forming special assessment tax receipts. It is another grab at the special assessment fund, and while it is not known just how much money has been obtained, it is possible that $20,000 or $25,000 slipped out of the people's vaults before the conspirators were detected.

Investigation has already developed that they obtained at least $4000. Neither Comptroller Wetherell, City Treasurer Wolf, nor Chief of Police Badenoch will give the names of those implicated in the fraud. The tax sharks have been located. It is probable that several arrests of those connected in the matter will be made.

LETTER FROM THE GENERAL.

NEW YORK, March II.—The Herald this morning says that a cable dispatch from Gen. William Booth has been received at Salvation Army headquarters. It is the first public utterance from the paternal head of the army since the dissensions began. Two days ago the general arrived in London from the East and had a conference with Bramwell, after which the dispatch was written. It was read from the platform at the "holiness meeting" at headquarters last night. Commissioner Eva Booth began to read the document, to the audience, from which all but Salvationists had been excluded, but became so overcome by emotion when she read about the family love which "has subsisted" among the Booths until now, that site called upon one of her officers to finish for her.

This is the dispatch, which is dated at International Headquarters, London:
Comrades: I find it impossible to describe the sense of sorrow which I am overwhelmed by. On receiving details of the great loss which has fallen upon us in the action of my son, your late commander, every high anticipation of my heart for him for nearly forty years seems to have been swept away, and every tender association of his life with my own and his beloved mother seems likely to be trampled under foot in this hour of his sore temptation.

The melancholy course of action upon which he has embarked has been taken in the face of expostulations of, the chief of staff, in spite of affectionate entreaties of his brother and one sister and one of my most trusted officers, sent expressly to New York to reason with him, without any communication with me of any kind and in utter disregard of three telegraphic messages fro from myself urging him to meet me in London on my return from India, to which cables I have not even received a reply.

But, though sorely wounded by this calamity, I am more than ever resolved, in the strength of God, to direct, the government of this army upon the principles of equal justice between man and man. I have never permitted the close relationships of family love which have subsisted between me and my children to give to them any preference in the affairs of the kingdom of God over their comrades who, though not blood relations, have ever been dear to me for their works' sake. I will not do so. Your welcome to my daughter, Commissioner Eva, in her temporary command, has much gratified me.

How every sensible man must recognize that, if I had been willing to retain the loyalty of my son by sacrificing the principles of the army, I should at the same moment have lost, and deservedly so, the confiding the ard as the spproval of my swn conscience.

The suggestion that I had sought to Anglicize the army in the United States is at once a falsehood and a calumny. You, who have heard me plead the claims of the lost world, know it is. You have stood with me near the cross, and you know that under the shadow of that tree I have pledged you. to devote your lives to no less a purpose than that for which the bleeding victim died—the salvation of every nation.

The Salvation Army is as much American as it is English. It is of the kindred poor and belongs to every land. Comrades, I rely upon you. I have done so since the first mutterings of this storm wached me in India. You have acted juif as I should have expected you to act. By your toil and self-sacrifice and deyotion you have made the army what if is in America, and you have not been willing to stand by and see it destroyed.

You will not fail your general. You will ourselves anew to their salvation, and

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.) AN FRANCISCO, March 11.-Judge McKeina resumed his hearing of the motion to set aside the temporary or-der restraining the Railroad Commismotion to set aside the temporary order restraining the Railroad Commission from reducing freights on the Southera Pacific road, in the United States District Court today. Hayne asked that a transcript of the testimony recently given by C. P. Huntington before the Senate committee be admitted to show that the expenses of the steamship line from New York to New Orleans were included in the operating expenses of the Southern Pacific Company. This he claimed, swelled the cost of the atter company and made its percentage of gain considerably less. Judge Garber, for the railroad, replied to this, claiming that the argument as advanced was immaterial and unimportant. Judgy McKenna agreed with Garber, holding that the contentions of Hayne were irritevant, but as a matter of policy he decided to admit the transscript in question in evidence.

After several ther motions of minor importance had been disposed of, Herrin commensed his opening argument. He read from decisions and arguments in other cases involving questions of legislation. He contended that the Board of Railroad Commissioners had no power to fix raise arbitrarily. The power is a legislatire one, and belongs to the Legislature to fix them, and not that of the commission.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 11.—The Chronicle says that a sufficient time has now elapsed since the recent cold weather to make estimates of the damage sustained by fruit from frost of some value. Acordingly the Chronicle has secured from its correspondents in the various vehard sections, opinions of reliable fuit-growers in regard to crop prespects. The results are more satisfactory than was expected.

With the exception of a few spots in Sonoma county and Northern Callfornia, the previous estimates of loss caused by the cole were greatly exagseratea. In Sofoma county, almonds and abricots suffered to some extent, and also cherries, but other fruit was little harmed. These fruits and early peaches sustained all the damage that will result in the State. With no late frosts the coming fruit-crop should be large in almost every part of the State.

An Escaped Prisoner Recaptured.
WOODLAND, March 11.—Charles Lamont was arrested here today, charged with having escaped from the Idaho penitentiary in 1883. Lamont, whose real name is Chambers, was released from San Quentin prison on March 1, where he had just completed a twenty-one years' sentence, less credits, for robbery. Chambers is known as a desperate criminal and committed a number of robberies in California, but was finally captured after shooting three men. A few days ago he wrote to Wells-Fargo saying he would not molest the company if he was given a position, but if he did not get assistance he would not go hungry. Chambers is wanted in Idaho for escaping from prison, and will be sent back there to serve out his sentence.

PITTSBURGH (Pa.,) March II.—The original articles of agreement for a fight between James J. Corbett and Robert Fitzsimmons, forwarded by the National Sporting Club of London, and exclusively cabled by the Associated Press at the time they were promulgated, were received here this evening for Corbett's signature. Corbett read the agreement carefully, and tonight attached his signature. He agrees to every condition stipulated, and fills in the blank regarding division of the purse with the words, "winner to take all." He seaves the date in June, 1896, open for the club and Fitzsimmons to settle upon.

Over the Leonists.
(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)

MANAGUA (Nicaragua,) March 11 .-(Associated Press Copyright, 1896.) News has been received here of another sig-nal success of the arms of the govern-ment against the Leon rebels at Metment against the Leon rebels at Metapa, a village near Matagalpa, which contains a large American settlement, and is only about twenty miles from the Honduras frontier and in the Department of Senetrial. The government forces have been working northward toward the Honduras frontier, in order to form a junction with the troops which the republic of Honduras has offered to President Zelaya to assist in putting down the revolt.

The rebel forces made an ineffectual attempt to hinder this junction, and a battle resulted, in which the rebel forces were completely routed, losing fifty killed. A skirmish is also reported to have taken place at Nagarote, near the western shore of Lake Managua, and the scene of the recent terrible slaughter of the insurgent forces. In the skirmish small loss resulted on either side, but the rebels were driven back toward Leon.

AN INHUMAN MONSTER.

FEARFUL CRIMES OF WEYLER I

nuscripts of Manuel de la Cruse, a Cuban Historian, Disclose Shocking Incidents of His Bru-

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TIMES.) NEW YORK, March 11.—(Special Dispatch.) The Sun's Washington spedal says that the following staten relative to the alleged atrocities of Gen. Weyler, commander of the Span-ish troops in Cuba, was made tonight ish troops in Cuba, was made tonight by the secretary of the Cuban delegation. Manuel de'la Cruse, the distinguished Cuban writer who recently died in New York, left manuscripts for his history of the revolution of 1868-78. It cannot be argued that he invented for the sake of influencing any action in this country. The fell any action in this country. The fol-lowing was written many months ago, not intended to be used in the press, out in his proposed work. De la

Cruse says:
"During the last war Gen. Weyler did not distinguish himself by military exploits. As a soldier he was an ob scure commander of a column. His or erations were in the territories of Camagliey and Tumas. His reputation is based on his atrocities. His dance at Guaimaros is famous in Puerto Principe. He captured a number of ladies of the best society of this prov-ince. They were taken to the village of Guaimaro. Around a large bonfire in the center of the public square he placed the defenseless women. Feroclous hordes of negroes who composed the fourth company of his command were ordered to violently undress

mand were ordered to violently undress the prisoners. They played an African dance, and the unfortunate Cubans who refused to participate were whipped by Weyler himself.

"But even worse than the foregoing was the crime committed by Weyler on Senorita Romero. She was captured with her mother, Weyler ordered the latter to propose to her daughter the sacrifice to him of her honor. The distracted, mother, under threats of death, entreated in vain with the young woman. Weyler offered this alternative: The senorita must choose between him and the black soldiers of the already famous and sadly-celebrated Fourth Company. Senorita Romero did not waver. She indignantly exclaimed: Between you, monster, and the Fourth Company, I do not hesitate. Give me up to the Fourth Company."

The special adds: "Can Mr. Dunny

The special adds: "Can Mr. Dupuy DeLome or Weyler deny this when Cruse solemnly declares: In 1889, in a house at Neuvitas, thin and emaciated as a specter, her hair white, a complete wreck, and idiot, I saw the sad victim of that infamy."

"WEYLER IS HIMANE" "WEYLER IS HUMANE."

"WEYLER IS HUMANE."

NEW YORK, March 11.—A dispatch to the Herald from Madrid says that in an interview Señor Francisco Romeroy Robledo, Minister of Mercy and Justice, said:

"Gomez was born in San Domingo, and is nothing more than an adventurer. American intervention in Cuban affairs would be resisted to the death by Spain as contrary to all rights of international law. Spain has carried on the warfare by humane means. The statements about Weyler's cruelties statements about Weyler's cruelties are calumnies. To say that he is inhuman is totally false. Fighting energetically for his country, he is called inhuman, simply because his energy is in conspicuous contrast to the supine attitude of Martinez de Campos. "Premier Canovas did a wise thing in dissolving the Cortes. If it had been in session matters might have been precipitated; now all may go well. The new Cortes will be thoroughly representative and unanimous upon the question of Cuba."

THE MEDIATION STORY UNTRUE. LONDON, March 11.—It has been ascertained by the Reuter's Telegram Company there is no truth in the report circulated by the Correspondencia of Madrid that Great Britain is trying to mediate between Spain and the United States on the Cuban question on the basis of the recognition of the sovereign rights of Spain.

THE BERMUDA FILIBUSTERS. NEW YORK, March 11,—Gen. Callato Garcia, Capt. Samuel Hughes, John D. Hart, Capt. John Brabazon, Bernardo J. Bueno and Benjamin J. Guerrera of the Bermuda expedition were today in-dicted by the Federal grand jury for taking part in an armed expedition, contrary to the neutrality laws.

CUBA'S PRESIDENT

HAVANA, March 11.—(By South American Cable.) The insurgents have attacked the village of Pilotas, province of Pinar del Rio, and were repulsed of Pinar del Rio, and were repulsed with considerable loss.

In the recent attack made by the insurgents on Sagua Tanamo, the president of the Cuban government, the Marquis of Santa Lucia, fell from his horse, and was seriously hurt. He is 76 years of age.

Antonio Macco is once more in Havana province. Yesterday it was announced that Gen. Weyler would shortly remove his headquarters from Havana to Matanzas, in order to more conveniently direct the operations against the insurgents who had retreated into Santa, Clara. Meantime, Macco and his followers, including Bandera and Lacret, seem to have turned back on their road, going through the line of troops like small fish through the meshes of a seline, and made their way across the entire province of Matanzas.

A Plot Against Hippolyte.

NEW YORK, March 12.—A dispatch to the World from Kingston, Jamaica, says that a movement in Hayri, having for its purpose the assasination of President Hippolyte, has been checked in its inciplency. The Jamaica government promised to surrender Manigat, the Haytien revolutionist, who is in refuge here, if it is proved that he was implicated in the conspiracy.

A POLICEMAN SUSPENDED.

An unfortunate series of incidents has just resulted in the suspension of Officer Cox, one of the men who drive the police patrol wagon. The whole trouble comes from a blocycle. Sergt. W. T. Jeffries lives on Pearl street. Near by lives an old lady who was recently seriously and perma who was recently seriously and permanently injured by being run into by a wheelman who was riding on the sidewalk. There is a city ordinance against riding on the sidewalks. Sergt. Jeffries made up his mind to enforce that ordinance as far as in his power lay. So, two weeks ago, he stationed two policemen a short ristance apart on a street much frequented by wheelmen. Nearly a dozen unsuspecting blcyclists were arrested and next day fined $3 aplece.

Among those arrested was Harvey
Cox, a son of Officer E. E. Cox. Officer Cox urged Special Officer Shields, who had made the arrest, to make no complaint. Officer Shields consented to de-had made the arrest, to make no complaint. Officer Shields consented to delay making the complaint against the young man until the latter should be able to leave his work.

Officer Cox was not satisfied with this. He went to Chief Glass and asked him to get Officer Shields not to make the complaint. Chief Glass replied that it was not in his power, that Officer Shields was merely doing his duty, so on Tuesday Officer Shields hunted him up, took him before Judge Owens and young Cox was fined $3.

This made Officer Cox very angry. All day yesterday he wandered around the Police Station, telling what he thought of the man who would arrest a brother officer's son. Police Captain Roberts heard his angry words. He told the driver that he could not allow wrangling between two members of the force, and that if he should ever again hear him talking in such a way of another officer, he (Roberts) would be forced to suspend him.

Then Officer Cox's anger turned on Capt. Roberts, and in the course of his abuse he repeated the biting things he Voted Themselves Salaries.

DUBUQUE (Iowa.) March 11.—Several weeks ago, under instructions of Judges Husted, the grand jury indicted the Mayor and eight Aldermen for illegally voting, and taking an increase of salary. They demurred, and claimed the indictments charged no crime under the statutes. Neither of the resident judges would hear the cases, and Judge Waterman of Davenport, was called. The hearing commenced yesterday in a crowded courtroom, and with a big array of counsel. The judge's rulings all through plainly indicated the sustaining of the demurrer, and it will not be surprising if the indictments are dismissed. Voted Themselves Salaries.

The Montana Convention.

HELENA (Mont.) March 11.—The State Mining Immigration Convention will adjourn tonight. C. F. Fee of the the Northern Pacific says the Helena convention is more enthusiastic than was the one at St. Paul. The city was crowded to overflowing. Resolutions were adopted favoring free silver. Extempted to insert a gold-bug sentiment but was unceremonlously sat down upon by the committee. The resolutions were greeted with a storm of applause.

Well, you'll sea the "Gem of the Foothills" when you see that town. While you're there turn west from the First National Bank; go school building of the Gem of the 'Gem of the Foothills' one of the protists is acres for the Foothills' one of the protists if scare 5 in year-old Washington navel orange groves in Southern California. The crop now hanging on the trees is not for sale, but the trees and ground are. The crop is sold to the Earl Fruit Co. Now to figures: You can get that grove for $11,700 (850 per acre) and if you'll take a day off and investigate you'll find you can't duplicate that grove for less than $1000 per acre, and you'll have hard work to do that. If you don't believe that, try it and see. If you want a "sure thing" and would like to contract next year's crop for 10 per cent. on the purchase price right on the trees, I'll give you secured contracts with you want a "sure thing" and wall the surer and profit. You know that grove you want to be the profit of the surer and grown of the profit of the surer and see me if you want one of the best buys in the State. You may well wonder that I will sell it so cheap, but see me and less the water that goes with it is worth at least $2000, and costs you about $225. See owner.

A COVETED PLUM.

OFFICE OF DIRECTOR OF TI

Be Turned Down in His Fra Reaches for the Position—W the Governor Will Appoint.

Gov. Budd has decided upon the man who will succeed Andy Mullen as trustee of the Whittier State School. No one of the crowd of aspirants for the coveted place will be litted into office by the Governor. The Herald editorial person, W. S. Creighton, whose pertinacious pursuit of "pap" has mightly bored Budd, is to be given the cold, cold "shake," and the other would-be trusteen.

shake," and the other would-be tees will not fare much better a The Governor has gone outside of the coterie of office-seekers who has swarmed about him, since his arriv in Los Angeles, and has chosen for the sition a comparatively unknown position a comparatively unknown man—unknown in a measure to the public, but an old acquaintance of the Governor's. This man was Budd's law partner in 1888, in Stockton, Cal. He has accompanied the Governor in his recent excursions about Southern California, and stands very close to the executive head of the State.

His name is T. B. Van Alstyne. He cultivates a ranch in Santa Ana, where he has lived for several years. Van Alstyne is considered a model man for the place, with a clean record, good business and executive ability, and, most important of all, he has no political "friends to reward or enemies to punish."

nustiness and executive ability, and, most important of all, he has no political "friends to reward or enemies to punish."

Gov. Budd has made a close examination of the Whittier school, looking into the personnel of the school staff, its competency and fitness, and has declared in favor of a policy which will not, perhaps, be the healthlest for the school politicians, but which cannot fail of increasing the facilities of the school for good. The Governor has confided the exact lines of this policy to but few persons, and these his most intimate and trusted friends. There is to be no revolutionary action at the school, but the improvement contemplated will hegin with the selection of a proper man for the position of trustee, and other changes will follow.

Mr. Van Alstyne, the proposed new trustee, is esteemed very highly by Mrs. John W. Mitchell, a member of the board of trustees appointed by the Governor shortly after his inauguration into office. Mrs. Mitchell was largely responsible for Budd's visit to Whittier, and his investigation of the State school there. She has labored steadily since her appointment to office for the improvement of the school, and its operation on business and common-sense lines. Budd expressed himself as highly pleased with the work of the only woman member of the board, and it is understood that in tendering the position of trustee to Mr. Van Alstyne, the Governor is acting in accord with the wishes of Mrs. Mitchell.

While it is possible that Mr. Van Alstyne will refuse the position which is to be tendered him, the probabilities are that he will accept the place. The formal announcement of the school. D. M. McGarry, son of ex-Counqilman McGarry, is the present treasurer, and there is a strong feeling among the trustees favoring the appointment of Senator R. F. Del Valle to the position. As a prominent Democrat remarked. "If there are any sinecurer for Democrats around here (accent on the 'are,') Senator Del Valle is certainly entitled to one."

SPANISH CONSUL'S ADVISER. Must Go to Court to Get His Promised Pay. F. C. Maravilla has brought suit the United States District Court against Gregorio del Amo y Gonzales, whose name is written as G. del Amo. The complaint alleges that G. del Amo.

The complaint alleges that G. del Amo, a citizen of Spain and a subject of Alphonso XIII, the Vice-Consul of Spain, residing at Los Angeles, hired Maravilla to serve him as a deputy, confidential adviser and agent for a term of four years from January 1, 1891. The remuneration agreed upon was the plaintiff's living expenses, board and lodging and $10,000.

Maravilla worked from January, 1891, until July 15, 1895, and received but $1250, board, lodging and living expenses. Besides performing the duties agreed, Maravilla took care of G. del Amo's ranch and collected rents. These services, the plaintiff claims, are worth $13,750, and prays judgment for the difference not yet paid, $22,500.

POLICE COURT. Roy Hill Was Too Drunk to Know What He Did. Roy Hill was examined before Judge Owens yesterday for burglary. Sunday evening kicked in the do the Chicago laundry, on South Main street, and marched inside. Department Constable Houston caught him in the act. But the evidence presented yes-terday so clearly showed that Hill merely played a drunken prank that His Honor ordered his discharge. The trial of Tom Brown, a hoho who stole a coat in the Bryson Block Tues-day, was set for today. The trial of w. S. Jones for disturbing the peace was set for the 16th. George W. Collom of unenviable notoriety, was arraigned on a charge of forgery and held in $3000 bond. The $10 ball deposited by Bug Holliday the night he threw a by Bug Holliday the night he threw woman out of a carriage was applied to his fine for being drunk. J. J. Marco was told he would be sentenced Friday for violating the license ordinance.

Since Joseph Sormeuse did not appear to answer to his charge of vagrancy, his bail was declared forfeited.

Lost Child. Little Ada Dunn came down town yeserday to help her mother do some shopping. Ada is only 5 years old, so shopping. Ada is only 5 years old, so it was an easy matter to lose her. She was brought to the Police Station weeping bitterly, and asking where her mother was. Officer Long consoled her with candy and assurances that her mother was in the drug store around the corner and would be back in a minute. So Ada made friends with everybody, from Billy, the patrol-wagon horse, down to the hat boxes on top of the lockers, and passed the time very pleasantly until her worried mother found her and led her home.

From his office in Wall street Henry Clews sends out a "special" on the situation which contains various figof speech "and sich." Among other things Mr. Clews says:

"When citizens see great questions of public policy, public safety and monetary integrity turned into mere occasions for a display of electioneering tactics, they feel that a most serious detaileration has come over the pirit and morale of American states-nanship. When, in the treatment of manship. When, in the treatment of great economic and international questions, the country sees principle forsaken for party expediency, and the courage of honest conviction sacrificed to either silence or cowardly compronise, they are chilled by apprehension as to where such a drift may lead the nation. In fact, Congress is felt to be no longer a safe guide in times of emergency. Emergency, indeed, has many mere pawns in a selfish money-naking game of politics; in which no question is dealt with on it merits and question is dealt with on it merits and the settlement is shaped to gratify the ignorance or the prejudices of the pre-ponderant irresponsible masses. This prostitution of statesmanhip to politics prostitution of statesmanhip to politics is becoming a very serious element in the every-day business life of the country. It not only suggests grave questions about the fundamental national drifts of the times, but affords no satisfactory hope of the wise or early settlement of the questions on which trade and finance are now directly dependent. In fact, men of affairs begin to feel that the large interests of the country—production, commerce and investment—are all at sea. A seriously large number of the men entrusted with the helm of affairs have converted the legislative halls into an arena of selfish struggle, where personal and sectional in struggle, where personal and sectional interests outweigh great national in-terests and defy the public will.

"It is this condition of things which now holds under spell the vast inter-ests centered in Wall street and is re-straining the whole enterprise of the country. As there is no longer any country. As there is no longer an hope of Congress accomplishing any thing toward a wise settlement of th urrency question, nor of any other seful legislation being adopted, the ublic are becoming anxious for its djournment. In that case, the wicket would at least cease from troubling, and there would be rest for the country, wearled of legislative trafficking and triffing. It is worth consideration by leaders of conservative sentiment whether it would not materially conduce to the recovery of national con-idence to encourage the expression of a public desire that Congress will ad-tourn at the earliest possible day. So far as respects this center, such action would meet with universal indorse-

THE SALVATION ARMY.

The trouble in the Salvation Army es largely from Gen. Booth's failure appreciate the character and influof American institutions. The of Russia is not more autocratic n. Booth in relation to the organiza n' of which he is the head. For-Gen. Booth's despotism,-or that is too harsh a word, call it has been of such a charter as to attract rather than repel ts; but this does not alter the narchical. Ballington Booth taking charge of the army in this try, soon discovered that some are the greatest growth and at efficiency of the organization, he adopted measures and methods with the prevailing spirit of de-racy. The result has been a mar-ms growth, and one which could have been attained by strict adher-to the original methods of Gen.

and elsewhere where monarchical institutions prevail. The result is that their duty is to remain in America and work among the people whose they have so fully entered. While there is cause for regret that differences should have arisen between the two great leaders, and while the general will continue to command respect for his great executive ability and the wonderful work he has done, the sympathy of the American people will be with Ballington. If one Salvation Army is good, perhaps two will be bet-

We all would like to hear more about Nansen's alleged discovery of the North Pole. Sir George Nares, in the Saturday Review, thinks there is but little doubt of the discovery, and believes that Nansen, instead of making the supposed "drifting voyage," found land and was able to make his way over a frozen continent in sledges, for at least a portion of the way. is reported that a map of the pole has been published in England, and that England already lays claim to a good portion of the land supposed to lie in that vicinity. But why not refer the matter to arbitration, and, if possible, secure a compact of the nations to stamping ground of Fitzsimmons, Corbett, Sullivan, Debs and their ilk, to the everlasting relief of the civilized world?

The Abyssinian war does not at present hear a favorable outlook for Italy. It looks amazingly as if the fierce Shoans had the moral, if not the material, support of France, for in their recent destructive attack upon Baratieri, it was found that they were armed with fine French rifles, and were drilled, if not led, by French officers. King Menelek will fight to maintain his supremacy to the bitter end, for he is proud of his ancestry and his race, and is not disposed to yield up his kingdom to an army of foreign invaders if it is within his power to crush them. It is a defeat which will naterially affect the future of Italy.

We may occasionally get a pointer from the effete East that would be valuable for us of the "wild and woolly West' to act upon. According to the latest regulations in Philadelphia, po licemen who are serving on beats from which a loss of bulky goods by thieves is reported, are to be called before a board of inquiry. This is simply applying to the policeman the disciplin which the merchant who lost the goods would apply to is employee, provided sponsible for the loss. Is there any injustice in this, especially if the beat a long one?

It is not quite polite for the people of San Diego to take liberties with the name of Mrs. Susan B. Anthony's companion, and yet so strong is the psychological law of suggestion that ne cannot avoid recalling the lines relating to marriage of Ebenezer Sweet and Miss Jane Lemon:

"How happily extremes do meet In Jane and Ebenezer; She's no longer sour but Sweet, 'And he's a Lemon squeezer."

If permanent arbitration be finally dopted as the means of settling all difficulties that may arise between the United States and England, it will be the beginning of the end of war be-tween all civilized countries. The awful barbarity and carnage that accompany it will be things of the past, ove which the twentieth century will re progress. Those who had been led to think that science was approaching its last limits in the discoveries in electricity made during the last score or so of to awe at the prospect which the Roentgen rays have opened up.

It is whispered in private circles that Gov. Budd has given the Little Crawfish the marble heart in connection with that Whittier trusteeship. And the Budd leg has been restored to definite principle, and that principle is the one on which the coming campaign ciple will win together.

AT THE PLAYHOUSES.

ORPHEUM. It is a gala week at this ouse for the bill is one of the very est of all the year. The Pantzer rothers are the most wonderful equilibrists and acrobats ever seen in Los Angeles. Billy Carter keeps the house nightly in roars of laughter, the Garthe Friedland brothers' musical act is novel and entertaining and Carroll Johnson, Tina Corri and Walter Stanon's big imitation rooster complete the charming bill.

BURBANK. This is the last week of the May Nannary Company, They close their engagement on Sunday evening, "Baby," the laughable comedy, will be "Baby," the laughable comedy, will be given to Saturday matinée. On the latter occasion a handsome and expensive doll will be given away. Sunday evening the great military drama, "Lynwood," will be the attraction for the farewell performance of the present company and on Monday the W. T. Carleton Opera Company will open in "Fra Diavolo," and during their stay will also give "The Mikado," "The Bohemian Girl" and "The Lily of Killarney." The company bring their own scenery and over forty people, and the engagement promises to be a most artistic success.

ATTRACTION TONIGHT. "Sinbad," in all its glory, magnificent scenery, brilliant electrical effects, dazzling new costumes, with the brightest of hum costumes, with the brightest of humor and the latest of catchy music, begins its four-nights engagement at the Los Angeles Theater tonight.

The present "Sinbad," Mr. Henderson claims, is the largest, most magnificent, and in point of detail, the most complete production he has ever brought west. Everything appertaining to the performance is carried intact, and the burlesque will be given precisely as at the home theater in Chicago, Mr. Henderson is particutact, and the burlesque will be given precisely as at the home theater in Chicago. Mr. Henderson is particularly enthusiastic over his present cast, which includes Louise Elssing, Frankie Raymond, Oscar Girard, Hugh Chilvers, Turner and Murphy, who were herewith "Aladdin, Jr.;" Flora Evans, Harry Clay Blaney, Eloise Willard, Marta Rainsford, J. L. Guilmette and a great ballet arranged by Signor Blancifori, led by Mile. Ferrero. The choruses are said to be large and the girls pretty and clear-voiced, even for a Henderson production.

An Unselfish Position.

(San Francisco Bulletin:) Col. Harrison Gray Otis of the Los Angeles Times, is not only on up-to-date editor, but an up-to-date politician. Recently a prominent eastern journal nominated Col. Otis for the Vice-Presidency on the Republican ticket. A man with less capacity than Col. Otis possesses to look into the political grindstone would have plumed himself on the nomination. But our Los Angeles friend is not in the least thrown off his balance. He says in an interview that a Vice-Presidential nomination would do the Pacific Coast little good, but would prevent the selection of a Cabinet officer from this Coast. It is not often that a man thinks of his State before he thinks of himself, but in this case Col. Otis seems to have done so. An Unselfish Position.

(Fresno Republican:) Col. H. G. O(is, of the Los Angeles Times, has attained the distinction of being named as a possible Vice-Presidential candidate. With due appreciation of the good intentions of the friends of Mr. Otis who are suggesting his candidacy, we must express the opinion that they are "barking up the wrong tree." Col. Otis's newspaper is one of the greatest in the West, but the colonel couldnot be a Vice-President. He cannot play second fiddle to any-body-not even to the President of the United States. Colonel Otis is the supreme power wherever you find him.

IN SOCIAL SPHERES.

The wedding of Miss Anna M., Spear and Frank G. Mason last evening at the residence of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Trowbridge, on North Hayes street, East Los Angeles, was a very pretty affair. The ceremony was performed at 8:30 by the Rev. Mr. Laverty. The bride looked very charming in a handsome gown of electric silk, in soft shades of old rose and ashes of roses. The skirt was plain, and the walst was finished with frills of pale yellow chiffon and insertion. A turquoise brooch set with diamonds, the gift of the bride's aunt, was fastened at the collar. She carried a cluster of white carnations tied with white satin ribbon. The maid of honor, Miss Rose Dietrich, wore a stylish gown of novelty cloth, trimmed with mossgreen velved and passementerie. The best man was Claude-Holman. The rooms were prettily decbrated. In the back parlor, above the bridal party, was suspended a large wedding bell of bridal wreath, from which were gracefully festooned thick ropes of smilax. Masses of callas and roses were effectively arranged about the rooms. A dainty supper was served after the ceremony, and during the evening there was some delightful guitar and mandolin music. The gifts were numerous and handsome. Each guest was presented with a pretty box inclosing a plece of wedding cake. Mr. and Mrs. Mason will enjoy a two-weeks' visit at Coronado, and upon their return will reside at the Victoria, No. 752 South Spring street. They will be at home to their friends Thursdays after April 1. The bride's traveling gown was of dark green cloth, trimmed with black tips and Persian ribbon, completed the costume. Among the guests were Dr. and Mrs. Whomes, Mrs. Windhelm Mr. and Mrs. Russell, Mrs. Rowens Hollenbeck, Mr. and Mrs. Holman, Frank Holman, Miss Birdie Riefenbrick, Bob Jones, Miss Florence Holman, Miss Florence Holman, Miss Florence Holman, Mrs. Glaze, Mr. delightful pedro barty lest evening at heavy and others.

FAME OF LA FIESTA.

It is Spreading in the East-President Patterson Interviewed.

W. C. Patterson, president of the Chamber of Commerce, visited the flesta headquarters yesterday for the first time since his return from Washington and the East. "I was besieged," he said, "with inquiries about the flests during my trip East. In every sity where I spent some time, people asked me all sorts of questions as to the time and scope of our celebration. I was thoroughly surprised to learn the extent of the fame of our fasts. The ad-has served to attract great attention to this section."

The "smoker" given on Tuesday evening at the Athletic Club has had the desired effect, and has aroused a marked enthusiasm among the young men and especially among the members of the prominent clubs and professional men. The Executive Committee has received assurances that at least a dozen fests clubs will be organized within the next few days, and that several gentlemen have commenced active operations among their friends to enlist them in the service of the Queen. Matters have advanced sufficiently to discuss the character of costume several clubs will adopt, and, judging from indications, they will be striking, to say the least. The Jonathan, Athletic and Concordiaclubs have pledged their hearty support and cooperation in this interesting feature.

clubs have pledged their hearty support and coberation in this interesting feature.

The Spanish Lancers have selected a strotesque costume, in which they will appear in the parades. Their uniform will be so arranged as to contain the flesta colors with the best effect. The shining helmets and glittering lances will be especially attractive, and the horses will be equipped in conformity with the historical traditions of the famous soldiers the club represents.

A proposition was submitted yesterday to bring a number of Yums Indians here to participate in the parades, in conjunction with the Pueblo Indians. The Executive Committee made arrangements for their transportation, and the streets will be full of the members of these old tribes, who will attract no little attention.

W. S. Delby of Orange county visited the headquarters and stated that the work of raising a fund to send a float to represent that county in the parades had been commenced. The prospects were very encouraging and undoubtedly the necessary amount would be collected.

Copies of the programme and handsome posters have been received from Santa Barbara, advertising the Santa Barbara floral festival. They were given a place of honor in the Chamber of Commerce.

He said that on five or six separate occasions meetings of the committee had been called in conjunction with committees appointed on the same subject by the Merchants' Association, Board of Trade and Manufacturers' Association, but that at no time had the attendance been sufficiently large to justify them in taking any action and he was prepared to advise that the committee be discharged and the effort for a new charter dropped, as far as the Chamber of Commerce was concerned. The report was accepted and the committee discharged.

A big barrel of punch, or rather that part of the seductive liquid that escaped the thrist of the attendants of the Los Angeles Club's smoker Tuesday night, was the great and sole attraction at the commercial chamber yesterday. The murmurs, and even the echoes, of the solos which came from the room above, occupied by the woman's Press Club, went unheeded by the crowd that formed numberless concentric circles about the rapidly-disappearing bizz. Numerous and pathetic were the sighs that originated over the dearth of cups and the fear that soon there would be but little use for them should they come at all.

ACCIDENTAL KILLING.

A Mexican Girl Shoots a calinamas.

Sheriff Burr received a telephone message last evening at 6:30 from Constable, Rogers at Hollywood, saying that a Spanish girl had killed a Chinaman at Sepulveda Cañon.

The Coroner at once went out with the ambulance and brought the body of the unfortunate Chinaman to the undertaking rooms of Kregelo & Bresse, reaching there about 2:15 o'clock this morning.

From information gathered, the shooting appears to have been purely accidental. The girl, Mallie Marino, a Mexican, about 18 years of age, who did the shooting, with her mother and sister were at the house of Mrs. Rosa. Giovannell, who lives about half a mile up the Sepulveda Cañon. The Chinaman, a vegetable peddler, was selling Mrs. Giovannoll some of his goods, and was telling the party about a small boy further down the cañon who had called him names. He remarked, jokingly, that he would kill the boy if he did that again. Turning to Mailie Marino, the Chinaman said that if she ever called him names he would kill her, too. The girl laughed and, going into the house, returned with an antiquated shotgun, an old converted army rifle.

Pointing the weapon away from the beddier, she snapped the trigger, the sun not roing off. The ripi's mother turned her back to speak to the Chinaman, who had climbed onto his wagon, and the girl herself was playing with the weapon, trying to open the breach, when the trigger again fell, and the charge, passing over the mother's shoulder, entered the Chinaman's right she, killing him instantiy. He fell off the wagon between the rear wheel and the hox, tightly wedging himself in the narrow space. Here the body remained till the arrival of the Coronor. There were no hard words of any kind passed, the Chinaman heing liked for his good humbr. The shoting was evidently purely accidental on the part of the girl.

THE HEADWORKS CASE. Sothing But Expert Testimony

In Judge Shaw's court the headworks

case, involving the condemnation of the land owned by Pomercy and Hooker for the city's use in the development of water power, came up again, having been brought over from Friday. There was an introduction of more maps and of a relief model of the land in contention and the surroundings.

Mr Friel, the engineer under whose supervision the maps had been made, was again on the stand, and occupied the best part of the morning in explaining to the counsel and jury the meaning of many mystical marks on the surface of the draughtings. When questioned by District-Attorney Dunn Mr. Friel admitted that while the map in question was drawn largely from his own surveyings and knowledge of the country, still in part it was taken from the Wheeler survey and the government Geological Department. He could not of his own knowledge say that the map was correct in all details, though he had reason to believe that the Wheeler find government surveys were fully corsect. In addition to the maps of the territory in question, profile maps were submitted, showing various elevations of the land surface and the water drift in controversy with the sea level elevations as comparisons. When Mr. Friel was excused nearly the whole morning had passed.

Andrew E. Nudson. a well-borer, was the next witness, and over his evidence arose a discussion as to whether such evidence was admissible, the defense claiming that the knowledge that he would impart was acquired since the serving of the summons. Finally Judge Shaw admitted his evidence, on the tegring of the summons. Finally Judge Shaw admitted his evidence, on the trypely to prove the correctness of the profile maps already submitted, as glowing the various strata and water fevels around the country. In answer to the same as they were during periods of one, two or three years, consequently being similar both before and after the action. Mr. Nudson's evidence went layedly to prove the correctness of the profile maps already submitted, as glowing the various strata and water the submitted of the

There is apparently nothing to prevent the parties who have the contract from exacting any price they like to ask for going up into offices and carrying out the garbage If it is not too late, an attempt should be made to remedy this oversight, even by passing a new

A Tale of Two Wheels.

A Tale of Two Wheels.
Two cyclists furnished, a good deal of amusement to the passing throng on Spring street last evening about 6:30 o'clock. They were riding in opposite directions, and the larger man, who apparently had looked on the wine when it was red, ran into the other, throwing both. The bigger man then offered to fight, at the same time catching hold both. The bigger man then offered to fight, at the same time catching hold of the smaller cyclist. The little man, nothing daunted, landed his fist dextrously on the other one's mouth, and then in rapid succession made flying visits to his ear and waist-line. To all of these rude assaults the larger man did nothing but hold on to his smaller assailant, who finally told the crowd to hold him. Some kind friends did so, and the little man mounted his wheel and departed. In his agitation, the big man got aboard some one else's bicycle and discovered his mistake only when the owner ruthlessly pulled him off the machine, and deposited him alone and unprotected on the cruelly-cold asphalt. He finally found his own wheel and started away from the unsympathetic crowd.

BOB BURDETTE.

A MAN WHO HAS BRIGHTENED THE Same Interesting Facis About the Genial Humorist Who is to Lec-ture Tonight for the Newshoys' Benefit.

Robert J. Burdette is coming to Los Angeles tonight to lecture for the ben-efit of the newsboys, so the papers say. Well, well; Robert J. Burdette, eh? What a pleasant sort of a taste that name leaves in the mouth? They used to call him "Bob Burdette" when I first heard" of him. "The "IF" stands for heard of him. The "J" stands for Jones—perhaps you've heard that name before. There used to be a whole famlly of them in Wisconsin. But I'm getting into the wrong pew; I started out to talk about Burdette.

This fellow Burdette commenced poking fun at his fellow-mortals way back in 1874. And he's been at it eyer since, Think of it! That was more than twenty years ago, and in all that time I don't believe there has been a single attempt made to stop him. Not one. He's just been allowed to go pouring out a steady stream of fun until he's got so now he does it with perfect impunity, and a man might be mobbed if he attempted to stop him.

Let me tell you something about this Robert Jones Burdette. No doubt you all have heard of Pennsylvania. Well, this fellow was born there, at a place called Greensboro, Now don't go thinking that everybody who was born in Greensboro is that way, because some of them, in fact, I may safely say the majority, are not green at all. It was in July he was born-life selected July because the winters there are very severe. He came West in February the fololwing year, believing that the West offered better inducements to young men. His parents also come at the same time. He selected Peoria, Ill., to settle in Peoria has been picking Up a little lately, but it was a long time recovering.

For seventeen years little Bobble Burdetts stayed in Peoria, trying to make up his mind which of the inducements he had better accept, and then he went away to the war. They tell me—I wasn't there—that Robert served his country well in her hour of need. He was a private, but he fought at Vicksburg and Corinth and other warm places, and went on the famous Red River expedition.

When the war was over he went back to Peoria. There were nine children in the Burdette family by that time, and Robert was the eldest. He had to help the others through and so there was only one thing to do—enter journalism, where the work is light and easy and the profits enormous. He went to work on the Peoria Transcript. He soon had so much money enough to pay the hands. It never disappointed me once in that particular—not once." Fina and if Robert can't find it, why, that's his misfortune.

But Burdette's life has not been all fun, let me tell you. He married Miss Carrie Garrett of Peoria in 1870. Allher life she was an invalid and many and many a time while seated at the bedside of the helpless sufferer this prince of the realm of fun-makers has penned the lines that made the whole world laugh. I've even heard it said that 'twas the sweet encouragement and earnest persuasion of this patient, loving helpmate that kept him in the struggle. Her promptings decided him to try the lecture field. He told her he Burdette's first lecture was given at Keokuk. Keokuk people hated Burlington people like poison. He thought if he delivered it first at Keokuk and was alive the next day, it was surely a success. He was alive the next day. He has lectured all over the United States and still he is alive. He has also written several books.

Some one once asked Burdette if he thought cigarettes injured the brain. "I don't know," said he, "it's impossible to tell. No one with any brains ever tried it!"

Speaking about men, Burdette once observed that it is best not to judge a man by his clothes. "You can't tell what a circus is going to be like by looking at the Italian sunset pictures on the fence, neither can you tell a man by his clothes.

what a circus is going to be like by looking at the Italian sunset pictures on the fence, neither can you tell a man by his clothes. Do you value a turkey for his plumage? Isn't the mink's skin the only valuable part of him? There he men, 'fair to look upon, who wander up and down this country, and sit in the coolest places on the hotel plazas, arrayed in fine linen and cardinal socks, who have to hold their hands over their scarf-pin to see the noon-light, who, unassisted and unprompted, do not possess the discretion to come in when it rains, and who do not know enough to punch a hole in the snow with an umbrella—new. Soft snow at that. Now and then you will meet a man who wears a hat worth twice as much as the head it covers. On the other hand, I have seen a tramp with worse rags on him than you could get out of a rag-bag, who would walk up to the front door, demand three kinds of cake, apple ple, and berry sauce, and then steal everything movable in the yard; kill the dog, choke up the pump with sand, tramp over the pansy bed, girdle the cherry tree, and be mad because he could not carry it away."

And that's the kind of philosophy this Burdette deals in. For twenty years and over, as I said before, he's roamed loose through the fields of literature—yes, literature; at least let me call it that—and he's culled some, of the cholest flowers in the garden, and given to the readers of every-day chronicles some of the most fragrant.

Yesterday Mrs. Daniels appeared at the Police Court and swore to a complaint charging the Craigler woman with mallolous mischief. She told a mournful tale of neighborhood quarreling. She lives in the rear part of the house occupied by Bertha Craigler, renting it from her. She has always paid the rent in advance, but now the landlady wants to put her out. She refused to go, so Bertha Craigler promised to make life interesting.

Mrs. Daniels one day finished her washing and hung it out to dry. Then she went away for a little while. Then, says the complainant, the landlady came forth with a pair of shears, slashed and clipped and cut the garments hanging there in a terrible way, and ended by cutting the line and throwing all the clothes in the mud. This is the ground for the complaint.

There is no Silk Department that can equal ours when price, style and quality and newness is considered. All our fancy Silks are new this season. They are all first-class styles and most all are Taffetas. We have no Indias. They are a thing of the past. The rustling Taffetas are the goods that will be the best sellers all through the season. The prices are 50c, 75c and $1 for the largest lines. There are better goods for $1.25, $1.50 and $2 a yard. Printed warp effects are the best. The warps are printed and then woven. This gives them a luster that no printed Silks possess. Dresden effects will lead all other styles. We have a special lot for 75c a yard that are unequalled for the money.

Have you seen the new Plaid Silks for $1.25? They are gorgeous in colorings. They are rich and striking. They will be largely sold for waists. Plain Black and Brocade Taffetas, $1 and $1.25. Just the thing for separate skirts.

Grand Jury Indicts Parson Cummings for Bigamy.

All the Story Told in Frank Lowry's Case.

o Firemen Dismissed from the Department for Drunkenness and Negligence—No Board of Health Meeting.

The City Hall was well-nigh deserted yesterday, the only meeting of the day being the regular session of the Fire Commission, at which two firemen were dismissed from the department for various causes. The Board of Health meeting was postponed, the Mayor being absent from the city.

At the Courthouse the trial of Frank Lowry got as far as the first argument before the jury. The grand jury filed an indictment against Hiram W. Cummings for bigamy. In Department Five, the entire day was occupied with The City Hall was well-nigh de-been investigated in the meantime by that official.

Before the Board of Fire Commissioners yesterday morning the Chief produced the charges, which were in the shape of affidavits from Callman Frank Gridley, his wife, and Minnie Wheat, a family domestic, certifying that on various occasions they had seen Myers feed hay and grain to a horse owned by him, which feed they presumed to be the property of the city. Drivers Burch and Augustine of the Temple-street engine-house gave similar testimony before the commission. After hearing this testimony, Commissioner Kunrts moved that the charges be dismissed and that "Billy" Mays, the callman, be dismissed from the department, for failure to respond to fire alarms at different times in the past few months. This motion was carried, clearing Myers of the allegations made by the callman, and leaving Mays stranded high and dry. Engineer Rohrer having reported that on the 5th inst. John Strohm, driver of the hose cart of the same company, reported for duty at 9:30 a.m., while in an intoxicated condition, the Chief yesterday presented the facts before the commission. Strohm was present, with Rohrer and Assistant Chief Smith, and the commissioners, after ascertaining as to the truth of the charges.

Chief Moore presented the following letter to the commission:

"Messrs. Hallett and Pirtle, owners of a building at the corner of Fourth and Broadway, handed me a check for $50, as a testimonial of the work of the fire department at the fire in their building on the 29th of February. I have acknowledged the receipt of the same with thanks, on behalf of the department, and will deposit the same, together with the following fines paid, to the credit of the firemen's relief fund: Frank Willoughby, $35; C. Commissioner Kuhrts, during the progress of the meeting, remarked that rumors were being circulated to the effect that the hose in use by the department is rotten and unfit for use. The Chief replied to this by saying that the recent fire on Broadway demonstrated the quality of the hose used to be excellent, as 1000 feet of the stuff was at that time put to as severe a was at that time put to as severe a test as could be wished. TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION. Notable Men Who Will Be Present During the Sessions.

The men who are managing the outhern California Teachers' Association propose to make the coming meet ing of the association a notable one, by reason of the prominent men who have been invited and will attend the sessions, and address the members of the association.

Among those who will be present is T. N. Dougherty of Peoria Ill., president of the National Educational Association. Superintendeat Foshay and the rest of the California educators have it in mind to make President Dougherty's stay in Los Angeles so agreeable that when this city puts in its bid for the National Educational Association's meeting in 1897, Mr. Dougherty will put his shoulder to the wheel and "pull" for the "City of Angels" for be it known that the "pull" of the aforesaid gentleman is great. In fact, it was his influence that steered this year's meeting of the association to Buffalo, N. Y., in spite of the strong and determined efforts made by the California people to bring the association to Los Angeles.

W. T. Harris, United States Commis.

nia people to bring the association to Los Angeles.

W. T. Harris, United States Commissioner of Education, is expected to be present at the Southern California Teachers' Association meeting this month, as is also S. T. Black, State Superintendent of Instruction. Teachers from San Diego, Orange, Riverside, San Bernardino, Ventura and Santa Barbara counties will attend the sessions, which are to be held at the Normal School, this city, March 26 to 28, inclusive. The City Board of Education has granted permission to the teachers under its control to attend the sessions of March 27 and 28.

SCHOOL CENSUS.

Fiesta Begins

Flesta Begias.

C. P. Dandy, secretary of the Board of Education, has been appointed census marshal by the board, his duty being, in this capacity, to take an accurate census of the school children of Los Angeles. The school appropriations from the State are made upon the basis of the number of children in the city, and the census gives this information to the State.

The work of taking the census will be the city and the census will be a sistent of the city and will occupy about its days. The board is allowed until the city is to complete the work. Secretary Dandy will be assisted by about the city of the city who will be paid $3 day. The school records will be called up with the deputies list, and the missisters thus avoided. Last school records, of children whom the deputies had failed to gather in. The census last year was taken during the flesta proceedings, and the children not being at home were thus missed by the census men. The loss of these 2000 names would have meant a loss to the city of $26,000 from the State funds.

Building Permits.

Building Permits.

Charles M. Meeker came very nearly having a monopoly of the building-permit business yesterday. He took out permits for fifteen houses, costing $1000 each, nine of these dwellings to be constructed on Moulton avenue, near Kurtz street, and six on Antonio avenue, near East Main street.

Stimson & Cristie were granted a permit for two houses on Lincoln street near Moore, one to cost $1500 and the other $1400.

The medical men who make up the Board of Health were to have met in regular session at the Mayor's office regular session at the Mayor's office yesterday at 2 v'clock, but owing to the absence of the Mayor, who is recruiting his wasted energies at the Eisinore Springs, the meeting was postponed to a future date. It is expected that the question of frozen fruit and its sale in the city will be discussed by the medicos at their next meeting. Instructions will no doubt then be given to the Heath Officer to take action in this matter, and prevent as much as possible the sale and distribution of the unwholesome stuff complained of.

Judge Smith Rules Out Lowry

Chief Defense.

Yesterday saw the close of the evidence in the trial of F. T. Lowry. A hard fight was made by the defense to shift the entire blame of the shortages to the shoulders of ex-County Clerk T. H. Ward, but Judge Smith ruled out all such testimony, as irrelevant to the issue then on trial, and thus knocked the chief prop from under the foundation of the defense. The ruling of the court was liberally excepted to by Mr. Meserve, and the cepted to by Mr. Meserve, and the present indications are for a hard fight in the Supreme Court in the event of the present case going against Mr. Lowry.

the present case going against Mr. LLOWTY.

At the opening of the morning session, Mr. Lowry was recalled to the stand for further cross-examination. Being questioned by Mr. Meserve, he testified that he often had the exclusive charge of affairs in the County Clerk's office, while Mr. Ward was busy with other matters. Later on, the witness stated that Mr. Woodbury, the deputy clerk of the Supreme Court, had never been an intimate friend or confidant of his. The object of this testimony on the part of the defense was evidently to offset the damaging evidence given by Mr. Woodbury the day before concerning the admissions alleged to have been made to him by Mr. Lowry, concerning the shortage.

T. H. Ward was then recalled and cerning the admissions alleged to have been made to him by Mr. Lowry, concerning the shortage.

T. H. Ward was then recalled, and testified that all county money handled by himself as County Clerk, had been deposited in the bank in the name of T. H. Ward, County Clerk. Mr. Ward also identified a number of cancelled checks bearing this signature in his handwriting. In answer to a question concerning F. B. Fanning, Mr. Ward said that he had left the office in 1891, and was succeeded by Mrs. Fowler, who took charge of the cash, remaining until Mr. Lowry was promoted in 1893 or 1894.

Mr. Meserve asked: "When you went out of office. Mr. Ward, how much did you owe the cash drawer?"

Before Mr. Ward could answer, Mr. McComas objected to the question as irrelevant, incompetent and immaterial to the case in hand, and a hot disbute ensued between the attorneys, the court occasionally taking a hand as words ran high. Mr. Meserve insisted that Mr. Lowry was not charged with the court occasionally taking a hand as words ran high. Mr. Meserve insisted that Mr. Lowry was not charged with falsifying the records, but of converting the money to his own use, and if it could be conclusively shown that Mr. Ward had used the money himself, it was certainly material to the line of defense. His explanation of the situation was that Mr. Lowry had used part of the $1354 not entered upon the fee-book, to pay over to Mr. Newlin $800 which Mr. Wood owed the office at the close of his term.

Mr. McComas's objection was finally overruled, and the question read to the witness, who answered that he did not owe the cash-drawer anything at the close of his term, and that Lowry had then assured him that there was plenty of cash on hand to settle everything. Mr. Ward did not consider that he owed the office or he county anything of estate money, but it was the regular custom of the office to use the cash in hand, keeping a memorandum of the amounts as taken and restored. Mr. Ward admitted that he had owed in this way about $430 when he left the office.

Mr. Meserve then asked the witness amounts as taken and restored. Mr. Ward admitted that he had owed in this way about $430 when he left the office.

Mr. Meserve then asked the witness what other resources than his salary he had possessed during his term of office, but, after much verbal sparring, the question was ruled out, and Mr. Ward released from examination.

The bundle of fifty or sixty checks was then called for, as 'the defense wished to show by them that Mr. Ward had used county money to liquidate private expenses, and J. M. Smith, cashier of the firm of Harper & Reynolds. W. T. Somes, formerly a pianodealer, and S. B. Glascock, a butcher, were successively called in the effort to prove that their accounts against Mr. Ward had been paid with checks drawn upon the county funds. After much wrangling, this class of testimony was entirely ruled out, and a recess taken until 1:39.

In the afternoon, Mr. Meserve made a formal offer of the whole mass of checks in evidence, and took a formal exception when Judge Smith sustained the objection of the District Attorney. A number of character witnesses were introduced, who all swore to Mr. Lowry's good reputation for honesty and integrity. Among these was H. J. Fleishman, for seventeen years cashier of the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank, A. B. Cass. W. D. Trask, Mr. Boalt, Judge A. M. Stephens, Attorney O'Melveny, Frank Sabichi and Mr. Flint, another bank cashier.

The defendant then rested, and T. E. Newlin was called in rebuttal, but the same old straw was threshed over with very little effect. Mr. Storrs was summoned from the grand jury and said that Lowry had not told him then that Ward had directed him to omit the entry from the fee-book. A Surcease of Trouble.

The linked fighting, long drawn out, of the three suits between B. Duncan and his wife, and the Stewarts, over the dust and microbes that blew from the Stewart dust heap and defiled the Duncan parlor, has died at last of old age. The expiring kicks were given yesterday upon a motion to retax the costs in all three cases, which came up before Judge York. In the case won by Duncan, he gets plaintiff's costs to the amount of $67.50, in addition to his judgment for $100. In the other two, Stewart came out ahead, and was given $35.09 for costs in each case. This leaves Blanton just $97.32 to the good, after all these weary months of warfare.

Atty.-Gen. Fitzgerald's Opinion or

Atty.-Gen. Fitzgerald, concerning the much-discussed "possessory interests,"
The question at stake is the right and power for taxatism of government and State lands, R where the record title is vested in the general government or the State; and, incidentally, the constitutionality of the following clause contained in section 3805 of the Political Code, as amended in 1895:
"When the possessory interest in land belonging to the United States has been assessed, and sold to the State for delinquent State and county taxes, the Board of Supervisors in the respective counties shall have power upon the application of the owner of the land, his representative or any party interested therein, to direct the County Auditor to cancel the certificate of sale in which such possessory interest was sold. Before an order to cancel the certificate, as prescribed in this section, can be granted by the Board of Supervisors, the applicant must satisfy the board that all taxes against the land or the possessory interest therein of such owner or his predecessor in title, have been paid."

The opinion of the Attorney-General upon the subject is embodied in a letter to the State Controller, and is as follows:

"In reply to your letter of recent date, asking my construction of section 3805 of the Political Code, as amended in 1895, in reference to the authority of the Board of Supervisors to direct the County Auditor to cancel certificate of sale to the State of the possessory interest in land belonging to the United States, I am of the opinion that a Board of Supervisors has authority to order the cancellation of a certificate of sale of a possessory interest in United States land only when payment is made for back taxes, etc., by the locator, or person holding directly under his location, and not in a case where a locator has abandoned his claim and a subsequent and new location is made by another person. In the latter case the Board of Supervisors has no authority under said section to cancel a certificate of sale. Neither is the sale of the former possessory interest a llen upon the interest of the subsequent locator, for the moment that the frior locator abandoned his location the property so assessed, and the lien of the State therein by reason of such sale, ceased to exist." The usual impenetrable silence was preserved as to the identity of this new rictim of the expiring inquisitorial body, but, as usual, the secret cozed out through the meshes of this blanket of mystery, and it was whispered about that this latest haul was a bigamist, and, to make the matter still more in-teresting, a preacher. established quite a little local reputation as a minister of the gospel. His plety and godliness won the heart of Miss EMzabeth Cogswell, a pretty Los Angeles girl, and the twain were married. They lived together for three years, and all went well until another woman appeared to mar the felicity of the parson's home.

The new-comer gave the name of Mrs. Effie Allie Ferguson, and it is alleged that she considerably surprised Mrs. Cummings by announcing that she was the legal wife of Mr. Cummings, who had married her in New York under his real name of Howard W. Ferguson.

The story goes that the much-wedded parson promptly "lit out" for his native haunts in the far East, where he yet remains, and is believed to be laying the flattering unction to his soul that he cannot be reached by the long arm of the law.

Mrs. Cummings' brother, P. F. Cogswell, took the matter up, and proceedings for a divorce were immediately instituted to free Mrs. Cummings from her bondage to the man who had so cruelly deceived her. The matter was also laid before the grand jury in a complaint against Cummings, The indictment was filed yesterday, but the old adage: "First catch your hare" may possibly be found to apply in this case.

THE SUPREME COURT.

CRAIG MUST HANG. The Supreme Court Decision Handed

The decision in the Craig murder ase has been handed down from the Supreme bench. It covers over seven pages of typewritten matter, and in all pages of typewritten matter, and in all cases maintains the correctness of the rulings of the lower court.

After citing the facts of the various killings and noting some of the evidence, the document goes on to say that one of the witnessess had testified that Craig said his wife would not allow him to see his children. The conten-tion of the appellant that this and similar evidence should have been dis-missed as inadmissible by the lower court is not supported, for the reason that it showed the intent of the de-fendant in killing his wife, and that he acted with malice aforethought. Much nust be left to the discretion of the trial judge in determining whether the proffered testimony has any relevancy o the issue to be determined. It proffered testimony has any relevancy to the issue to be determined. It could not be determined in advance whether the answer would be irrelevant. If the answer should be irrelevant, then it could afterward be stricken from the evidence; if otherwise, there is no reason for its nonmaintenance. It was for the jury to determine from the language used by the defendant in the various conversations referred to, taken in connection with other evidence, what was his meaning when he made certain speeches implying threats. The jury would assuredly not determine any of the questions until all the evidence bearing on each one had been offered. The defendant, on the stand in his own behalf, testified that the killing of George Hunter was in self-defense, and that a shot intended for him killed Mrs. Craig. But the evidence showed that Craig then drove three miles to the house of William and Mary Hunter, the parents of his wife, and deliberately, without warning, killed them both. Though the defendant excepted to this evidence on the ground that it applied to another crime, it was shown by the prosecution that the wholesale killing was a premeditated plan, and this contention is supported by his threats going to show intention of exterminating the whole family.

The court refuses to review its ruling that little Willie Craig was a competent witness, on the ground that the trial judge has the power of deciding whether a child is a competent witness or not, and on the person objecting rests the burden of disproving the ruling. Finally the court finds that it is satisfied that the jury was correctly instructed upon the propositions of law applicable to the case, and that ruling. Finally the court finds that it is satisfied that the jury was correctly instructed upon the propositions of law applicable to the case, and that the instructions requested by the appellant which were not given were not authorized. The court therefore affirms the judgment and order.

The opinion is written by Judge Harrison, and is concurred in by the full banch.

Do You Want MANHOOD?

A STRONG MAN who is vig-orous in muscular power is the envy of his fellow-man. He is looked upon as one of nature's noblemen. And yet how many men there are who would gladly sacrifice that muscular strength for the recovery of a still more precious element that has been lost. Men are not always what they seem. Almost daily we come in conversation with men who seem strong, vigorous, but who have begun to fail in the force of manhood, and who would, in a few years, on account of this treacherous, secret waste, fall victims to that most hateful disease with City Affairs.

The grand jury filed into Department one yesterday at 3 p.m., for the last time. Foreman Storrs stepped forwards and handed to Judge Smith the final and handed to Judge Smith the final report of the voluminous work done by the inquisitorial body, and His Honor, after looking through it, ordered it to be filed by the clerk, as approved by the court. He then discharged the grand jury from further duty, the session having lasted over six months already, and a large amount of expert work having been done.

The principal function of the grand jury, as we inferred from your instructions when impaneled, is to examine carefully into the accounts and management of the county offices and institutions. Availing ourselves of the aid of competent accountants and experts we have endeavored to follow out your instructions. The result of our investigations, in addition to the partial reports already made, are presented in this, our final report.

ulready made, are presented in this, our inal report.

We have endeavored to be thorough, conscientious and impartial in the performance of our duty. Errors where found have been pointed out; mistakes have been corrected, and where we could evidence of criminal practice we have called Your Honor's attention to the same. We have endeavored to perform our duty without malice, fear or tayor; our only aim has been the public ravor; our only aim has been the public good.

The amount of work performed cannot be appreciated by one unfamiliar with the public business of the county, it has involved the careful examination of hundreds of volumes of public records, and many thousands of vouchers and accounts. In some instances we found it necessary to go back for many years to obtain a starting point for our examinations. If any irregularity in any office has escaped our notice, it has not been from a lack of careful examination.

The six months covered by our sessions may seem long, but our actual sessions are only seventy-one days. In addition to our principal work, as above set forth, we have been called to investigate many outside matters of a criminal nature; at least half our time has been so occupied. We have deciled admission to no one who has knocked at our door with a matter which he wished to bring to our attention. Many of these matters, after hearing the testimony, we found to be not felonies, but misdemeanors, which lie outside the jurisdiction of the jury, but were proper subjects for the police courts of the city, or the District Attorney's office. Many of the cases investigated we found based on rimor and hearsay. In prosecuting this work we have examined 121 witnesses.

We have visited the County Hospital, Earm, asylums, jeils and prisons, and made careful inquiry into their

We have visited the County Hospital, Earn, asylums, islis and prisons, and made careful inquiry into their condition and management, the results of which will be found embodied in our preceding reports. In obedience to Your Honor's special instructions, we have investigated the accounts of the city offices, and herewith present our report of the same.

JUSTICE AND POLICE COURTS, LOS ANGELES CITY.

ANGELES CITY.

We have made an examination of the records, books, and accounts of the Police courts and City Justice courts of Los Angeles city. Our examination proper covers the period, January 7, 1895, to the end of the year.

These courts are presided over by Justices M. T. Owens and D. C. Morrison, the city justices for Los Angeles city being ex-officio judges of the Police courts, and as such receive a salary of $2000 per annum, which salary is paid by said city. All fines, penaities and forfeitures collected by these Police courts, also all fees collected by these by said city. All fines, penalties and forfeitures collected by these Police courts, also, all fees collected by them as justices of the peace, are to be paid into the city treasury. They are allowed no further compensation or fees, the sgiartes paid being in full for all services.

In a number of civil cases in Justice Morrison's court, we find by the cash book that fees have been paid, but no record of such payment entered on the docket. We find the condition of both the civil and criminal dockets and records of Justice Morrison's court in a very bad condition and improperly kept. The unsatisfactory condition in which we found the records of this court (Department Two) we can attribute largely to the fact of the great number of civil cases tried in the same.

We understand that Justice Owens does not encourage the bringing of civil suits is this court. We understand also that Justice Owens exacts a cash deposit when a suit is filed, and that Justice Morrison, of the other court, does not exact such a deposit, and that Justice Council, under sec, 103 of the Civil Code, require a deposit to be made in the city Justice's courts by all persons filing a civil suit in such court, and direct the justices to enforce the payment thereof.

We find from our examination that ment thereof.

We find from our examination that the dockets contain hundreds of cases where costs have not been collected. Those sums of money are legally due the city, largely from responsible parties, and we believe the city Council should take steps to collect the same.

should take steps to collect the same.
CITY AUDITOR.

We have examined all the books and papers of this office, covering a period from July 1, 1894, to July 1, 1895.

Also verified the Auditor's balances of July 1, 1894 and 1808 by those of the City Treasurer.

We have checked and examined about 17,000 demand vouchers, and all bonds and coupons paid during that time.

Among the former we found many clerical errors, none of which were very scrious. In additon to these, we found numerous errors in giving wrong dates, wrong numbers of demands, duplicating numbers, wrong pages, and omission of pages of ledgers to which entries had been posted, and wrong titles expressed in journal entries. We also find twenty-five "paid" suddied demands where the amount written in body differed with the itemised accounst. On the subject of bonds and coupons the only irregularities found were:

First—The bond and coupon register has never been written up.

Second—The payment by the tressurer of a $25 coupon in May 1895, that will not be due until May, 1896.

Prior to July 1, 1894, the Auditor's books were out of balance $40.55, and under date of November 30, 1894, and entries made during 1895. The books agree in every particular with the hooks of the City Auditor and the receipts for deposits made with the itemsed accounst have been with the hooks of the City Auditor, and the receipts for deposits made with the temperature of a $25 coupon in May 1895, that will not be due until May, 1896.

Prior to July 1, 1894, the Auditor's books were out of balance $40.55, and an odifficulty in checking and proving all entries made during 1895. The books agree in every particular with the books of the City Auditor, and the receipts for deposits made with the City Treasurer are all on file in the mand journal No. 12, forcing a balance with the books of the City Auditor, and the receipts for deposits made with the City Treasurer are all on file in the mand journal No. 12, forcing a balance with the books of the City Auditor, or an or an or an or an

The time covered by the examination of this office was the assessment years of 1894-95.

The personal property collections were the principal subject of our examination. The office methods used in this part of the Assessor's work are admirable, and for the year 1895 the amount of cash turned into the city treasury by the Assessor agreed to a cent with the total collections, as shown by the receipt stubs.

For 1894 there is a difference on four collections, the amount on the stubs aggregating $186.44, an amount appearing on assessment roil, as having been collected, $180.66, leaving a deficiency to be accounted for of $5.84.

We find from the records a number of cases of personal property which appear to have escaped the city taxation, representing a tax thereby not collected, and so lost to the city, of some $200 for 1894, and about $350 for 1895. Some property included in the above may, however, have been placed on the assessment roil under a different name, and so have paid the tax, but a portion of the property undoubtedly paid no tax whatever. In the course of our examination we find instances of a marked difference between the assessment for 1894 the aggregate county valuation was $42,252, and the same on the city roil and the city roil.

In ten cases of the assessment for 1894 the aggregate county valuation was $42,252, and the same on the city roil was $29,175, leaving a difference of $13,077. The taxes on same (at $1.20,) would have yielded the city $155.52. In like manner mineteen personal-property assessments for 1895 aggregated on the county roil, $77,615, and on the city roil only $59,210, a difference against the city valuations.

Some differences in valuation will naturally occur, but it would seem that a person giving an assessment to the city, and also one to the county, on the same date, would value his personal property at the same figure, both city and county assessments being made for the first Monday in March.

We would suggest that it might be well for the City Assessor and the County Asse

We find that the proper amounts have been charged for fees, and that $1104.50 has been deposited with the City Treasurer. The discrepancy of $6.50 was caused by errors in footing in the books, which we discovered and this shortage has been adjusted by an entry in the February account, adding $5.50 with a note of explanation.

DEPARTMENT OF PARKS.

Our examinations in this department cover a period beginning July 1, 1894, and extending to January 1, 1896. The books of this department only show the transactions that have occurred since November 14, 1890. No accounts of disbursements previous to this date appear on the books. It would be better if the total amount of such disbursements could be obtained from the books of the Auditor and Treasurer, and an entry made, segregating same to the different parks, so that the annual report from this department would show the total cost of each park and the total aggregate of expenditures.

We find the daily entries in the timebooks, kept by the park foreman, are not carefully and accurately made. There are too many marginal entries on the pay-roil book, adding days in current monthly pay-roil for days claimed to have been omitted in "previous months." Greater pains should be taken to have time-books correctly kent.

We found one entry omitted from the DEPARTMENT OF PARKS.

We found one entry emitted from the ledger: showing the apportionments made by the City Auditor, viz., October 25, 4895, of $1307.66. The entry has since been made by the secretary, and the total apportionments agree with the books of the City Auditor.

CITY ATTORNEY'S OFFICE.

In our investigation covering a period from June 1, 1894, to February 21, 1896, we found that the only money handled by this office was received through judgment in court and refunds in the matter of costs; for all of which we found receipts of the City Treasurer. The Register of Actions coincides with the records of the County Clerk's office, the only cases not appearing being the conditions of the County Clerk's office, the only cases not appearing being those brought to quiet title, in which the city is only technically interested.

A number of refunds in small amounts aggregating $15.55, some of which bear date as far back as 1833 have been paid into the city treasury. In our further examination into the conduct of this office, under the present administration, we find that out of twenty cases tried only one was lost by the city. In addition to these cases regularly tried in the Superior and Superme courts, there were 2308 causes conducted in the Police Court for violation of ordinances from which was recedingly unusual, but delightfully refreshing. Were it not contrary to our established custom as a grand jury, we would like to commend the manner in which the affairs of this office are administered.

CITY TREASURER.

We have carefully checked each item in the accounts of this office, covering the time from July 1, 1894, to July 1, 1895, excepting the street improvement bond account. This was from July 1, 1894, to January 1, 1895. We have compared them with the accounts of the Auditor and find they agree. We find through a mistake the sum of $13.55 is due the city from ex-Treasurer H. J. Shoulters, the same having been wrongfully credited to the account of Reiley-street bond No. 4, and paid out on a cancellation of said bond.

We think the street bond and coupon register should show the date of all payments.

REPORT CITY SCHOOLS.

Our examination of the City School Superintendent's books extends from the 30th of June, 1894, to the 31st of December, 1895. It has beeen as thorough as their condition would permit. We find that three leaves, containing pages 141, 142, 143 and 144, 201 and 202, have been cut from the journal; and the leaves containing pages 44, 45, 46 and 47, 55 and 56, from the ledger, besides many erasures. These occurred under a former secretary and Board of Education. For these mutilations we received no explanation, as the former secretary is not in the city. We cannot too strongly condemn such practices, yet our investigations revealed no criminal intent.

We find June 1, 1894, a discrepancy between the books of the Auditor and Superintendent of $15,000. This seems to have resulted from a transfer of this amount from the sewer fund to the school fund, which, for some cause, does not appear upon the books.

The present system of book-keeping consists of a journal, memorandum of demands, and apportionments entered during each month. There is no way to arrive at the amount expended at the end of any given time for any specific purpose, except by a tedious segregating process. There were no proper journal entries of transfers or apportionments. The books were not regularly checked with the Auditor's accounts. REPORT CITY SCHOOLS.

larly checked with the Auditor's accounts.

The tuition account amounting to nearly $1000 a year, was very loosely kept. The present Superintendent has made a great improvement in this particular. In some cases there seemed to be forced balances, taken from the Auditor's books. The errors here were due to incorrect footings, and careless entries. The only use that could be made of the former City School Superintendent's books was to compare the amount of demands with the amount of audits for each month.

We recommend: We recommend: First—An account should be kept

First—An account should be kept with each city school district, to the end that comparative estimate of expenditures for fuel, lights, repairs, etc., may be made.

Second—No non-resident scholars should be received so long as residents need accommodation.

Third—That all tuition be paid directly to the City Treasurer, and a monthly checking and comparisons be made of the books of the City Superintendent of Schools and the City Auditor.

Talk About the Recent Political Convention.

The efforts of the organ of the Citizens' Committee to create a belief that the Republican convention of Tuesday afternoon was managed by "ringsters" has been severely commented upon by business men this afternoon. Its statement that J. F. Church and men of his kind had no voice in the deliberations of that body are absolutely false, as when a controversy arose over a certain points in the order of procedure, J. F. Church's motion and that of F. S. Wallace, another man who is mentioned by the paper referred to as having been slighted by the convention, prevailed, and the candidate for election from the First Ward was declared to be for the full term of four years. A more fairly representative body of business men, it is said by those who have long been residents here, has never been gathered together in a convention in Pasadena, and the suggestion that they would countenance anything that savored of a "ring" or yield themselves to anything of the sort, is indignantly repudiated, and the spectators present at the convention will bear out the statement. It is said that statements of "slating" come with bad grace from representatives of the Citizens' Party, when the ticket adopted at the convention was printed and on the streets eight hours before the convention met. It is also deplored that there should be any attempt to stir up animosities between Republicans who are friends and neighbors, by charges of fraud and corruption, and to stigmatize as "ring-sters" the managers of the campaign of either party. The issues are fairly before the Pasadena public and the tickets are in the field. Every indication is that the people will fairly consider the merits of the candidates and any unjust aspersions, upon any man or set of men interested in the campaign, are deplored by representatives of the best sentiments of both partles. Mistakes were made in both conventions, and these have been variousy commented upon. It was a mistake in a certain delegate of the Citizens' Conventio

SANTA BARBARA COUNTY.

Santa Barbara Sentiment Strongly in Favor of McKinley.

SANTA BARBARA, MARCh II.—(Regular Correspondence.) Sentiment upon the question of who would be the best man for the Republican ranks to lead that party to victory this fall is beginning to be crystalized here. The general opinion is that William McKinley should be the Republican standard-bearer. This is because Mr. McKinley is considered the man most able to lead the Republican party to victory and because he is considered the ablest exponent of the principles of protection. Members of the County Central Committee state that they hear no other name mentioned in Santa Barbara county in connection with the Republican Presidential nomination but that of William McKinley. OFFICE OF THE TIMES, Los Angeles, March 11, 1896. TAXATION OF NATIONAL BANKS. A case recently before the Supres Court of the United States for decisi raised the question under what circum-stances a State statute may be held to discriminate against national banks in raised the question under what circumstances a State statute may be held to discriminate against national banks in not allowing debts to be deducted from their shares in taxation. The case arose upon an action brought by the First National Bank of Garnett, Kan, against the Sheriff of Anderson county, to restrain him from levying upon the property of the bank on a warrant for the collection of taxes upon its stock-holders on the ground of certain deductions claimed on the part of some of the stockholders from the assessment upon their shares of stock were not allowed them, as they claimed should have been the case, under the statutes of the United States.

Bradstreets reports this important case as follows:

"The stockholders based their contention on section 5219 of the United States Revised Statutes, which provides in reference to national banking associations that: Nothing herein shall prevent all the shares in any association from being included in the valuation of the personal property of the owner or holder of such shares in assessing taxes imposed by authority of the State within which the associations located, but the Legislature of each State may determine and direct the manner and place of taxing all the shares of national banking associations located within the State, subject only to the two restrictions—that the taxation shall not be at a greater rate than is assessed upon other moneyed capital in the hands of indivisual citizens of such State, and that the shares of any national banking association where the bank is located, and not elsewhere. Nothing herein shall be construed to exempt the real property of associations from either State, county or municipal taxes to the same extent, according to its value, as other real property is taxed."

"This statute the stockholders contended was contravened by a Texas statute, which, while permitting certain kinds of debts owing in good fatth by any person, company or corporation to be deducted from the gross amount of credits belonging to such person, by any person, company or corporation to be deducted from the gross amount of credits belonging to such person, company or corporation in listing their property for taxation, does not allow owners of shares of stock in national banks to deduct their indebtedness from the value of their shares of stock.

"The Supreme Court of Kansas affirmed a judgment in favor of the Sheriff, and this judgment has been in turn affirmed by the Supreme Court of the United States. In the opinion rendered by the Federal court of last resort, Justice Peckham directed attention to the fact that the Kansas statute treats shares of stock in a national bank upon a perfect equality with and in the same way as shares of stock in a State bank, for the purpose of assessment and taxation. At the same time he cited prior decisions of the court to the effect that the main purpose of Congress in fixing limits to taxation on investments in shares of national banks was to render it impossible for a State in levying such a tax to create and foster an unequal and unfriendly competition by favoring State institutions or individuals carrying on a similar business and operations and investments of a like character.

"Having this idea in view. Judge by any person, company or corporation to be deducted from the gross amount

"Having this idea in view, Judg "Having this idea in view, Judge, Peckham said that from the record in the case it was wholly impossible to determine that there was any discrimination against the holders of national bank stock. In order to arrive at a decision in favor of the bank it would be necessary, he said, to decide that the amount of moneyed capital in the State of Kansas from which debts may be deducted, as compared with the moneyed capital invested in shares of national banks, was so large and substantial as to amount to an illegal discrimination against national bank shareholders. This, the judge declared, the court could not do in the absence of proof upon the subject, particularly in syed capital invested in shares of national banks, was so large and substantial as to amount to an illegral discrimination of the fact that the absence of proof upon the subject, particularly in view of the fact that the State courries and the state of the fact that the State courries and the state of the fact that the State courries and the state of the fact that the state of the case, the sludge expressed the opin that in wested in the shares of down to a price that leaves the farmer comparatively little profit must be included potatoes. BIG COPPER MINES. Copper properties are at present more sought after than any other description of mines — more even than gold mines—by capitalists. This is not surprising, considering the remarkable success that has attended soine of the big copper mines of the country. When a copper mine pays it pays big. Recently, it is reported, that the United Verde copper mine in Arizona refused an offer of $50,000,000 for the property from a European syndicate. It is reported that the same syndicate has just paid $125, 000,000 gold coin for the celebrated Ana-conda unne of Montana. Even knock-ing off 90 per cent of these figures the prices would be large.

CHICAGO. March 11.—There was a very fair trade today and the feeling was somewhat unsettled. The opening was lower and weak and was expected when the government report became known yesterday. It is true the amount was something of a compromise between the various estimates which have been given our recently, being much lower than some of them and higher than others, but the bearishness, consisted not so much in the amount as in the fact that, with all the scarcity that has been claimed for the winter, the total of all kindsheld by farmers was nearly fifty million bunk-les more than a year ago. This showing had a very depressing effect on holders and, as was general disposition to let go of ome property and prices at once turned downward, perators were quite bearish and so of freely, agood share of the eleging that one of firmness when operators the influences helping to support purchases at the seaboard. It was claimed that some twenty boatloads had been bought for prompt export, and some twenty-five boatloads or more for May and June shipments. This was perhaps the main stimulus for the buying. There was good cash buying here also, nearly one hundred thousand bushels being taken, chiefly on milling account. Corn had another very duil day, the only business of consequence being near the close, as wheat was having its final raily. Trading in oats was very quiet. The unexpectedly large run of hogs caused some wakness in the opening provision prices. A little better tone prevailed toward the close, the market receiving fair support, and a slight improvement was noted. At the close May pork had declined 10c, May lard 5c, and lard 2½c.

Rev. A. J. Melchonian delivered an excellent lecture on the Armenians in the Baptist Church in Santa Ana Tuesday evening. Over $24 was raised for the sufferers, and one lady took off her gold ring and deposited it with the money in the tray. Rev. Gartin hopes to sell the ring before Monday of next week, and to realize as much out of its sale as possible, so as to swell the present amount raised before a draft for the money is sent off to the sufferers. The draft will not be forwarded until next week, so that if there should be others who desire to contribute something to the sufferers there is yet an opportunity.

Word was sent to The Times branch office today that there would be a sort of work out or impromptu race at the fairgrounds Thursday morning, between the two well-known fiyers. Klamath and Chehalis. A number from this city will no doubt drive out to see the steppers move.

Crayon sketches and humorous cartoons will be drawn in profusion in Santa Ana next Saturday evening in Spurgaon's Hall. S. M. Spedron will be the artist, and the entertainment will be given under the auspices of the Y.M.C.A. of Santa Ana.

Case of Rejected Demands for REDONDO, March 11.—(Regular Cor-espondence.) The Board of Trustees at the meeting Monday evening rejected two demands presented by the firm of Marble & Phibbs, Los Angeles attor-neys, amounting to about $1000. The demands were for legal services ren-dered the city. There has been no prac-ticing attorney in town, so the city has employed outside talent to attend to its legal business. The firm named was employed outside talent to attend to its legal business. The firm named was employed at a monthly rate of compensation. The firm represented the city in three suits which were taken directly into the Superior Court and presented a claim for additional services therefor. The firm contended that its contract with the city provided only for cases tried in Justices' Court and the cases appealed to the Superior Court, but not for those taken into the Superior Court direct. The city's contention was that the contract required the firm to attend to all the legal business of the city. The demand for additional services was rejected, payment of the monthly rate was stopped and other legal talent was employed. The demands for extra services and for unpaid regular compensation, as rejected by the Trustess Monday evening, amount to about $1000.

VENTURA. March 11.—(Regular Cor respondence.) Hueneme has had a Peeping Tom in the person of an old man named Cammin, who today was sentenced to ninety days on the rock pile. The old fellow has been in the habit of haunting front and back dooryards at night or early in the evening and peeping into windows and fright ening lone women. His method has ening ione women. His method has been to select houses when he knew the master of the house was away. So far he has done nothing more than frighten women and children. His enforced service on the rock pile will be hailed with delight by the timid folks of the seaside town.

VENTURA BREVITIES.

VENTURA BREVITES.

Clam-digging is one of the profitable fads of the Lenten season. The prevailing low tides afford an opportunity for clamming and surf-fishing that everybody, old and young, is availing himself of. Ventura's fish markets have a selection of edible fish mot surpassed by any city in the State, and prices rule low, as the supply far exceeds the demand. Tuesday afternoon the channel was fairly alive with schools of small fish of the sardine family. Opposite the Agricultural Fair grounds the water swarmed with these delicious little fish, and furnished food for hundreds of norpoises and sea birds which followed the fish along the coast on their journey northward. The nets in use by the fishermen here were too large to use for these tiny specimens of the fish tribe, and but few were eaught.

Tuesday afternoon this city was of the fish tribe, and but few were saught.

Tuesday afternoon this city was treated to a small edition of the Abyssinian war, and with like results as to Italy, as the outcome was the complete rout of an Italian-Swiss saloon-keeper named Bulletti. Two tough specimens of Afro-Americans called in the Italian boniface, and, after partaking freely of "sheep dip," proceeded to climb all over the bar, and wound up by soundly thrashing the son of sunny Italy. This afternoon Justice-Hobart, sitting as court of inquiry, adjusted matters by sentencing the dusky tough to the rock pile.

MAYOR'S BROTHER-IN-LAW FOUND A BETTER JOB.

He Will Inspect the Books and Con duct of All City Officials—The Water Company Resists a Re-duction of Rates.

SAN DIEGO, March 11.-(Regular SAN DIEGO, March II.—(Regular Correspondence.) The boy Mayor of this city seeks revenge. On Tuesday night the Police Commissioners found Ferrer, Carlson's brother-in-law, guilty of insulting the flag and of using ob-scene language. The commissioners discharged the man from the force. Ferrer proposes to go to court. He announces to the public, under oath, that he has not insulted Old Glory; that there is a conspiracy against him, etc. On top of Ferrer's statement Mayor Carlson appoints the man, his brother-in-law, to expert books and investigate in-law, to expert books and investigate the management of every department of the city government. The Mayor thus gives citizens another instance of his defiance of public opinion. He deliberately appoints a man to do expert public work who has just been found unfit to act as a city policeman by the commissioners, and who has been summarily dismissed from the force because he insulted the flag and used language unbecoming an officer. Mayor Carlson's action is regarded as in keeping with his other erratic actions as Mayor. The City Council has become so tired of the Mayor's seeming boyishness that it merely receives his messages and files them in spacious pigeon-holes. In fact, the Council appears to heed Carlson but little more than it would notice any citizen in private life.

THE WATER FIGHT.

THE WATER FIGHT. THE WATER FIGHT.

The San Diego Water Company proposes to have its innings on the question of city water rates. The Council passed an ordinance cutting down the annual income of the company to a point considered utterly unreasonable by the corporation. By this ordinance the company's gross annual income cannot exceed $80,000. Therefore the company begins action against the city in the Superior Court praying for just water rates, which at a fair rate of return on the investment, etc., ought to yield the Superior Court praying for just water rates, which at a fair rate of return on the investment, etc., ought to yield the plaintiff $265,000 yearly. A bill of equity embracing the substance of the prayer to the Superior Court was filed in the United States Circuit Court in Los Angeles on Tuesday. The water company appears to have given up hope that the City Council will attempt to give it justice. The actions of that body and of some of its servants have clearly indicated a spirit of prejudice against the water company, engendered, no doubt, by the strictures upon the integrity of members of the Council which have beau made in the Linked States Court by the company controlling, the flume and the water companies. These strictures allege that some of the Councilmen were boodlers of the lowest stripe who sold the rights of the people to speculating water schemers for sordid cash, Apparently the courts offer the only field for justice, in the eyes of the water company in carrying on the business with city. The Council does not command respect, San Diego's legal fight over water seems to be increasing daily.

POMONA.

For a System of Sewers to Cost Fifty

POMONA. March 11.—(Regular Correspondence.) City Engineer Sanders and his assistant, William Sanders, have nearly finished a set of maps and specifications for the construction of a system of sewers for Pomona. The City Trustees, who have been consider-ing the feasibility of the constructing ing the feasibility of the constructing of a system of sewers in connection with the new system of public waterworks here, gave orders for the preparation of the maps and other work, when they found that the maps and all the notes of the surveys made for the sewers in 1889, had been removed from the City Clerk's office some years ago. The City Engineer finds that a good modern system of sewers can be constructed from the intersection of Holt and Hamilton avenues to a sewage farm to be located on the back valleys—remote from any habitation and two miles southwest from Spadra—for about $21,000. Of course there will be laterals, gates, etc., to be constructed besides, and they will cost some $20,000 more. The proposed course of the sewabout $21,000. Of course there will be laterals, gates, etc., to be constructed besides, and they will cost some $20,000 more. The proposed course of the sewers from Pomona to the sewage farm as laid down by Mr. Sanders's maps, is west, beneath Crowe avenue, and then across the fields on the southwest of Pomona, until A. T. Currier's lands are reached, and then south. The sewage farm is proposed to be on the Currier property. Mr. Currier will agree to give the use of several acres of his back lands free for forty-nine years. When a system of sewers for Pomona was planned and estimated seven years ago, it was found that the work would cost from $105,000 to $110,000. Mr. Sanders believes it can be made today for from $40,000 to $50,000. The City Trustees have by no means yet decided to have a system of sewers, or to ask the people to consider the proposition, but they are getting things in shape for the construction of the proposed system with as little delay as possible, whenever the citizens think such a system should be made. That this city needs public sewers is a matter upon which there can be little discussion, because the necessity is so obvious, but there has never been any public movement here for sewer's as there has been for schoolhouses,

THE CITY BQNDS.

Some of the Pomona people who are posted in financial affairs, feel that the sale of the city bonds to Harris & Co. of Chicago, who pay a premium of $10.000. and will collect interest only from the date of the delivery of the bonds to them or their agent, was not a good piece of financiering. Only last week the little village of Weedsport in New York State sold village bonds to the amount of $90,000, bearing but 5 per cent. interest for twenty years, at a premium of $14.500. Recently the village of Adams, Mass., which is about the size and wealth of Pomona, sold bonds bearing 5 per cent to the amount of $75.000. for $11,200 premium. Now, the Pomona city bonds amount to $195,000. bear 6 per cent. Interest and run for forty years. It seems no more than natural to conclude from the sales of other numicipal bonds that the premium on Pomona's securities ought to have been somewhere in the region of $30,000. instead of less than half that sum. The usual practice for cities and corporations having bonds for large amounts to sell is to send a well-posted able business man to Wall street, and to wait upon the capitalists and banks, and to talk up the securities for sale. Pomona. however, sent out a few stingy little advertisement to newspapers that she had bonds for sale, and the consequence was the few capitalists who knew about the documents, had it pers that she had bonds for sale, and the consequence was the few capitalists who knew about the documents, had it all their own way about the bids and purchase. There was but one bid from any of the large number of capi-talists in New York, who control mil-lions of dollars and who invest every week in such securities as Pomona of-fered.

MONBOVIA.

A Thousand Visitors Saw the Sights

MONROVIA, March 11.-(Regular Correspondence.) Monrovia will not acknowledge that she has seen her best day, but this has been a big one. There day, but this has been a big one. There were 540 excursionists who came via the Santa Fé from Los Angeles, and Pasadena, and 353 on the Southern Pacific, including those who stopped at Hotel Oakwood for lunch and drove over in the afternoon. Add to these the people who came from the surrounding country, and it will be readily rounding country, and it will be readily over in the afternoon. Add to these the people who came from the surrounding country, and it will be readily seen there was a crowd.

Flags were displayed the full length of Myrtle avenue. The three large dining halls were artistically decorated with evergreens and flowers, and there a wholesome and neatly prepared lunch was served by handsome and obliging waitresses. Over 500 people were fed here, the balance patronizing the hotels and restaurants, or eating basket lunches.

Every available conveyance was kept busy all day showing the town and surrounding country to delighted visitors. Nearly all went to the packing-house to witness the process of orange-packing and shipping, and many a box of fanoy packed navels was carried away as a souvenir. After working hours last evening, Manager J. W. Pinney and his men arranged a neat little display at the packing-house, composed of 300 boxes of fanoy navel oranges, arranged in pyramidal form and decorated with colored wrappers, tinted linings, attractive labels and a background and border of mammoth tree ferns from the cañon back of town. Some of these fern leaves were over ten feet long and proved a great attraction.

The orange groves were visited, and many trophles carried away. What was said about Monrovia oranges might make some people jealous. The apricot orchards in full bloom were also an attraction. Some who drove up on the hills and in the cañon, among the rocks and trees, brooks and wild flowers, getting a magnificent bird's-eye view of the entire valley below and ocean beyond declared this to be the greatest treat of all, while others said the trip to Baidwin's ranch and a chance to see his famous race horses now in winter quarters there was well worth a trip across the continent. The drive to Duarte amid endless groves of orange and lemon; down smooth, graveled drives, bordered with palms, peppers, grevillas and other ornamental trees; a glance at palatial homes, and a visit to the packing-house where Duarte oranges, so, favorably known in the East, are and other ornamental trees; a glance at palatial homes, and a visit to the packing-house where Duarte oranges, so, favorably known in the East, are prepared for shipment, was enjoyed by all who went that way.

Nearly all Morovians are eastern people, and many of their old-time neighbors paid them a visit today. No one was persuaded to go back, but many expressed a desire, and some a determination to come out and be neighbors again—to whom a full share of the luxurious enjoyment of the "Gem of the Foothilis" is gladly extended.

MONROVIA BREVITIES.

It is impossible to have so large a crowd as was here today without there being a few disgruntled ones who make themselves ridiculously conspicious by being dissatisfied with everything and wishing they had staid at home—and everybody else wishes the same. Their presence is not altogether bad, though, because the whole-souled ones always predominate, and the contrast is refreshing.

While driving about the town today many indulged in the innocent, though fascinating, pleasure of selecting the identical spot where, in imagination, they will build their future ideal home. May their thought prove to be realities. While reviewing the crowds today many an old resident was heard to say: "This seems like old times, when we used to feed two thousand at a time up there in the grove," and then his looks would betray his thoughts about history repeating itself.

One lady entered the postoffice, and, after looking all about her, said: "This is not so magnificent as our postoffice at Philadelphia." The postmaster had to admit that it was not, but that in some respects it had better surroundings.

Some tourists suggested that a bleycle brigade would be a valuable adjunct to these terminal excursions. The railroads, which are mostly interested, will doubtless "catch on," and sell tickets including a bike ride.

Henry Hart of the Main-street Savings Bank, Los Angeles, was among the visitors today.

J. F. Falvey, former foreman at Santa Anita, and an extensive property-owner here, was in the excursion. Many others whose names are familiar to most people here joined in the big crowd. Among them were: John Wilde, formerly with the local bank; L. F. Gay of Piru City; S. R. Palmer of the First National Bank, Los Angeles, C. W. Brown. First National Bank, Pasadena, and Messrs. Reynolds and Van Nuys, Pasadena.

Dr. J. W. La Force returned today from Ottumwa, Iowa, where he has been visiting several months.

FIXING WATER RATES. In the Alessandro irrigation district the water rate last year was 11 cents the water rate last year was 11 cents per inch for twenty-four hours. The district turned the water over to the Bear Valley Company, and it is reported that the company undertook to raise the rate to 35 cents an inch. Against this the Defense Association protested, and sent John G. North to Los Angeles to appear before the district, Court and attempt to secure the restoration of last year's rate.

SAN BERNARDINO COUNTY. Prospector's Peculiar Find in a Desert Cave.

SAN BERNARDINO, March 11 .-Regular Correspondence.) J. C. Christy never returns from a prospecting trip, but with a good story. He is just in, and tells of the finding of a cave in the Twenty-nine Palms district, the floor of which was strewn with crockery. A friend of Mr. Christy says that one of the best specimens of crockery. one of the best specimens of crockery was of a peculiar form and absolutely transparent, and contained a peculiar amber-colored fluid, of strong flavor and odor. Miss Frances Weyman is one of the pretty young ladies now visiting friends in Hanford. As is well known in Hanford, Miss Weyman left her home in Omaha, Neb., ia search of good health. Before her arrival she was but the Omaha, Neb., ia search of good health. Before her arrival she was but the ghost of her real self. Now she is strong, brimful of energy and perfectly beautiful. Although she used several bottles of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla, her face showed no signs of a pimple, a blood spot or a Sarsaparilla trade mark. The reason is obvious. Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla, unlike the iodide of potassium sarsaparilla, contains only herbs—California herbs and herbs that will dry up the facial blemishes and purify the blood without throwing out spots on the face. Listen to Miss Weyman: "You may tell the manager of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla that I am delighted with California in general and with Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla in particular. I almost wish I was a native. Don't you see what a great thing it is to have people speak of your own State as being great in what a great thing it is to have people speak of your own State as being great in health-restoring qualities? Yes, when I return to Omaha I will be sure to carry several bottles of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla, and I shall always praise the remedy, as it has done me great good." The experience of Miss Frances Weyman will be your experience if you try Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla. Don't allow a druggist to talk you out of the "native Sarsaparilla"—Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla.

DR. PIERCE'S GALVANIC

CHAIN BELT. Dr. Pierce's Belt has many points of advantage over others, but we have room to mention but THREE in this advertisement. First-It looks like the pictures. We don't represent one thing in the papers and try to sell you something entirely different when you call at the office. Second-It is sold at about ONE-HALF the price asked for belts of inferior make. Third-The current regulator of Dr. Pierce's Belt IS NOT A TOY. It gives the full force of the electric current at all times, but prevents burning and disagreeable sensation of every kind.
